ANTI-BOWSER COTERIE TRIES TO POSTPONE CONVENTION IN FACE OF OLD CHIEF'S CERTAIN RECALL

Party Clamors for Meeting to Reinstate Former Premier in Office, But His Enemies Delay Hoping Something Will Turn Up; Tolmie, Their Only Hope, to Stay by Federal Party; No One May Oppose Bowser When Convention Meets at Last

Beneath the outward calm which followed the tumult of the Federal election, these are hectic days in the inner official circle of the Conservative Party of British Columbia. There is hurrying and scurrying, there are plots and counterplots, and the prospects are dark indeed among those who form the inner official circle. W. J. Bowser, K.C., officially in the wilderness but actually the most influential Conservative in British Columbia, apparently is coming back without even the motion of opposition at the next Conservative convention. In the inner official circle, which has shrunk to alarming proportions of late and now represents only a little coterie of Mr. Bowser's personal enemies, these things are full of evil portent.

PREPARE TO EXTEND MINIMUM WAGES TO ALL B.C. BUSINESS

Administrative Board Orders New Scale in Lumbering and Plans Extension of Rule

Handicapped Employees to Be Allowed Exemption From Rule to Prevent Hardship

Following the Provincial Government's decision yesterday that it cannot interfere with the orders of the board administering British Columbia's new minimum wage law, that tribunal today issued its formal regulation enforcing a minimum wage of forty cents an hour in the lumber industry from November 1. This order gives the lumber industry thirty days' notice in addition to the time it has had already to get ready for the operation of the law.

AWAIT EFFECT
The effect of the enforcement of the law is awaited with keen interest. Lumbermen assert that it will prove ruinous to their business and close many mills. The administrative board believes, on the other hand, that the forty-cent minimum is fair and reasonable. Labor organizations have pressed in the past for a higher minimum than that fixed.

The order issued today applies the minimum wage of forty cents to every branch of the lumber industry. The term "lumber industry" is made to include "all operations in or incidental to the carrying on of logging camps, shingle mills, sawmills, planing mills, lath mills, sash and door factories, box factories, barrel factories, veneer factories and pulp and paper mills, and all operations in or incidental to the driving, rafting and booming of logs."

HANDICAPPED WORKERS
Provision is made for part-time, handicapped or apprentice employees, who may be exempted from the forty-cent regulation by individual permit in each case. Only ten per cent of the employees of any firm may be so exempted. The purpose of this provision is to prevent the dismissal of handicapped men from their jobs because they are unable to perform forty cents worth of work per hour.

The administrative board will start immediately to investigate other lines of industry in preparation for the enforcement of minimum wages in all branches of business as provided by the law.

PRAIRIE THRESHING IS AGAIN DELAYED

Rain and Threat of Snow in Large Areas Between Great Lakes and Rockies

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—Throughout the prairie region to-day the weather is unsettled. Some districts, notably in Saskatchewan, report rain, while in other rain and snow clouds are gathering.

The farmers, after resuming threshing operations following the damaging storms of last week, face another delay in all three provinces. The unfavorable turn of the weather once again has influenced the grain markets and this morning, with speculative buying dominating, wheat here staged a sharp advance, opening 1 cent to 2 1/2 cents higher.

FARMER KILLED

Piapot, Sask., Sept. 30.—Charles Winger, a recent arrival from Sweden, was fatally injured when he fell from a wagon on a farm near here.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Good Roads Association in Edmonton yesterday afternoon, Mr. Henry, who is Minister of Public Works and Highways of Ontario, was elected president for the ensuing year, and Mr. Black, Minister of Highways of Nova Scotia, was elected second vice-president. Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, was elected first vice-president.

MEIGHEN INSISTS ON RETIREMENT TO PRIVATE LIFE

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—The Ottawa correspondent of The Manitoba Free Press says: "Information obtained in Ottawa to-day is to the effect that Right Hon. Arthur Meighen is not interested in proposals to accept the provincial leadership in British Columbia or elsewhere. He is determined to retire from public life and will not be deflected by offers of positions of lesser importance than the one he is resigning."

HURRICANE CAUSED EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

But Loss in Mexican Territory Not so Heavy as First Reports Indicated

Mexico City, Sept. 30.—Manuel Merino, an officer of the Mexican Railway, has informed the Associated Press that railway and telegraphic communications with Vera Cruz have been resumed. He said he had received reports indicating Vera Cruz had not suffered as heavily as at first believed in the hurricane on Tuesday.

Alejandro Cerisola, who left Vera Cruz Tuesday night, reported on his arrival here that three ships in the harbor had been severely damaged by the wind and that several boats had been smashed against wharves.

The cruiser Annabau and the steamer San Juan, which had been reported sunk, are safe, as well as the steamers Morazan and Missouri and seven schooners, although all were badly damaged.

WOMAN MISSING FOR MONTH FOUND

Miss Mary Warburton 57, Walked From Hope, B.C., to Point Near Princeton

Princeton, B.C., Sept. 30.—After all hope of finding Mary Warburton, fifty-seven-year-old nurse, in the wilderness of the Tulameen Mountains west of here had been abandoned by search parties which had been seeking her for a month, she was found near Princeton last night in a weakened condition and brought to the hospital here.

When Miss Warburton left Hope on the Fraser River on August 26 for a sixty-five-mile walk over a rough mountain trail to Princeton, she was reported to have been equipped with only four days' supplies. Searchers who reported they had traced her footprints to the end of a path which led into a virgin wilderness abandoned hope of finding her alive when the mountains became blanketed in snow early this month.

SISTER GOES NORTH
Vancouver, Sept. 30.—In response to a telegram advising that Miss Mary Warburton had been found, but city police no details as to her condition. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. of "City sister and brother-in-law" of the nurse, will leave to-night for Princeton.

BIDDING DRISK AS TAX SALE OPENS

Sum of $6,225 Brought by Twenty-eight Sales This Morning

Former Owners Redeem Property Right up to Moment of Trading

Twenty-eight parcels of land sold at the city tax sale this morning in the opening session, realizing $6,225. City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith opened the sale with about thirty people present. Business to-day resulted in the sale of twenty parcels of land on call, eight more from the floor of the City Council chamber and an adjournment until 10 a.m. to-morrow.

SIX PARCELS WITHDRAWN

Upwards of six parcels of land were withdrawn from the sale this morning as owners rushed overland taxes into the city treasury wicket. From day to day now the sale will open at 10 a.m. in the City Council chamber until the entire list has been disposed of for the upset price of the charges against the land, or such higher bids as may be received at the sessions.

To-day many buyers were agents acting for former owners who either paid their taxes and withdrew the properties from the sale, or else had friends bid them in at the sale. Real estate dealers were buying in some strength and prices obtained in all sales covered the charges outstanding against the land under sale.

Mr. Smith conducted the sale with every opportunity to former owners to retrieve their property. Even after the property changes hands in the tax sale former owners have a further year in which to pay up and redeem their property. Sales to-day were those asked for by request, and this policy will be continued until the end of the sale.

INDIANS SEARCH FOR BODY OF MAN

Efforts Made to Find Remains of M. Orioli, Rancher, Killed Near Quesnel

Quesnel, Sept. 30.—The trail which the Indian trackers who are assisting the provincial police in their search for the body of Morice Orioli, ten miles north of here, were following on Tuesday led nowhere.

Late yesterday afternoon, on an old road passing back of Aaron Kost's house, the Indians followed a man's tracks for about two miles. Then they turned into the thick underbrush in the direction of the lake and Kost's house. Darkness came on before the trackers were able to get down into a deep ravine to where the tracks led. Two hours more tracking will decide whether or not they are right in their surmise that the body may be hidden in the densely-wooded coulee.

The ravine is only half a mile distant in a direct line from Kost's cabin.

Orioli was sixty-five years of age. His ranch adjoined that of Kost, who is forty years old. The ranches are ten miles north of Quesnel.

Kost is now being held by the provincial police in the jail here. He came to Quesnel, and reported the death.

He told the police he had seen Orioli near his Kost's cabin, and while he was looking a shot was fired by some unknown person from ambush and Orioli fell. He said the person who fired escaped.

JAPAN THREATENS TO OPEN SEALING BY KILLING PACT

But Officials Here Expect Only Modification Move, Not Abrogation

Return to Old Conditions Would Annihilate Pacific Herds, Experts Warn

Japan is about to throw the whole Pacific sealing question into the melting pot again by denouncing the present treaty under which unrestricted sealing has been made a thing of the past and the seal herds of the North Pacific are being restored to their old numbers.

This is the purport of press dispatches received here from Tokyo to-day. The papers of the Japanese capital give prominence to the statement that the Japanese authorities are determined to end the present treaty agreement with Britain, Russia and the United States.

This news caused surprise among Provincial Government officials who are most closely in touch with the sealing question. They are inclined to believe that the report of Japan's intention of abrogating the treaty is exaggerated. It is inconceivable, they said, that any of the treaty powers would throw the treaty overboard and thus cause the utter annihilation of the seal herds.

It would not cause surprise, however, if Japan asked the other powers for a revision of the treaty. It is known that Japanese interests, like old-time sealers in British Columbia, are anxious to secure again some part of the sealing revenue which was obtainable before their operations were restricted.

WOULD ENDANGER HERDS
While the opening of the seal waters to unrestricted killing would annihilate the herds in a short time it might be possible to increase the present restricted slaughter without permanently damaging or endangering the herds, it is believed.

At present, under the treaty, the United States kills a fixed number of seals on the Pribilof Islands every year and divides the money made in this way between the treaty powers. So far all the powers have derived a net revenue from the seal trade, which has spent heavily to protect the seals and to care for the natives of the Pribilof Islands.

CIVIC VOTERS' LIST OPENS TO-MORROW

All Voters Asked to Check up Their Names on List to Avoid Disappointments

Registration of voters on the city voters' list will commence to-morrow before E. W. Bradley, city clerk. Registrations will close at 5 p.m. on October 30. All forms necessary for registration may be obtained at the City Hall together with any information required by the applicant.

QUALIFICATIONS

Property owners and those in possession of registered agreements of sale are automatically placed on the voters' list. Trade license holders are registered upon applications and without further payment, providing they are otherwise qualified.

The qualifications are British nationality and of the full age of twenty-one years. Residence in Victoria must be established prior to January 2 of the year.

Those who have not paid through taxes or trades licenses but are otherwise entitled to vote, are called for by door-to-door canvassers in the case of males, and road tax alone in the case of females. There are a number of exemptions from both these duties, on account of age or occupation. Companies can name a representative to register in his or her own name, providing such applicant is qualified in other respects.

TWO THOUSAND LAST YEAR

The officials at the City Hall, from past experience, ask all intending voters to make sure their names are on the list, and to do so early. Over 2,000 registrations were put through in thirty days last year, and this pressure leads to confusion which it is possible to avoid by early application.

The conditions cited are only a rough draft of the regulations and full and detailed information can be had from the city clerk's office at the City Hall any time between working hours.

Later the party will proceed to Ottawa.

SAN FRANCISCO-B.C. FLIGHT IS MADE

A. E. Godfrey of Canadian Air Force Returns to Vancouver After Trip South

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Squadron Leader A. E. Godfrey, M.C., A.F.C., of the Royal Canadian Air Force, has returned from San Francisco, where his flight in the Douglas seaplane in which he recently crossed Canada ended last week.

The Canadian pilot and his United States companion completed the hop to San Francisco, stopping at Seattle and Eureka en route, without serious trouble. Small repairs to pontoons were made at the Boeing Works in Seattle, and some trouble was experienced at Eureka, but it was not of a serious nature.

The squadron leader, who is stationed at Air Force headquarters at Ottawa, will return East by train starting to-night.

Flying Officer A. J. Ashton, adjutant of the Air Force station at Jericho Beach, has returned from a four-day flight with A. T. Davidson of the White Pine Blasting Rust Control Board, to Alert Bay, Bella Bella, Namu and Ocean Falls. Accompanying Mr. Davidson on the inspection trip was Dr. Farington, United States representative in British Columbia in the white pine blister rust campaign.

2,000 CHINESE DROWNED WHILE TYPHOON RAGED

One Hundred and Thirty Junks Foundered in Waters off Mouth of Canton River During Great Storm; Number of Native Women and Children Among Those Lost

Hongkong, Sept. 30.—It is feared 130 fishing junks with about 2,000 persons aboard, including women and children, were lost in the waters around the Portuguese colony of Macao in a typhoon last Monday.

The fury of the storm is evidenced by the masses of wreckage floating in the coast waters south of Hongkong.

The coastal steamship Hydrangea observed many fisher folk clinging to the wreckage and calling for help. Despite a rough sea, the Hydrangea's lifeboats rescued thirty-five persons.

Macao is west of Hongkong, off the mouth of the Canton River.

CHAMBERLAIN TALKS WITH MUSSOLINI

British Foreign Secretary and Italian Premier Meet on Yacht at Leghorn

Leghorn, Italy, Sept. 30.—Premier Mussolini received Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, aboard the yacht Guiliana in the harbor here to-day for their much-discussed conference, the subjects of which had been kept secret.

The interview lasted an hour. When they reappeared this afternoon the statesmen were smiling, expressing satisfaction at the result of their meeting.

While no statement was forthcoming, it had been reported before the conference that the entire field of British and Italian relations would be gone over.

FLOWERS PRESENTED

Premier Mussolini sent a beautiful basket of orchids to Lady Chamberlain, accompanied by a note written in English in which he presented his most devoted homage.

Sir Austen Chamberlain and his wife and their son took lunch aboard the Guiliana as guests of the Italian Premier. The British flag was hoisted and Mussolini received his guests at the gangway, kissing Lady Chamberlain's hand as she came aboard.

TWO GERMANS ARE KILLED BY FRENCH

Incidents in Occupied Territory Cause Demand For Removal of Troops

Germersheim, Germany, Sept. 30.—Popular feeling against the French troops of occupation, aroused by the killing of a German civilian here last Monday, was increased to-day by news that another German had been killed by a French trooper at Treves, near the Luxembourg border.

An official German report of the incident says four bayonet-wielding troops rode into a group of German pedestrians. An argument followed during which one of the Frenchmen allegedly without provocation, killed a German named Holstein. The Frenchman was arrested.

GERMAN ATTITUDE

Berlin, Sept. 30.—German papers of every political shade view the Germersheim incident as proof that the military occupation system constitutes the greatest hindrance to a Franco-German understanding.

As long as foreign troops are on German soil, they say, brawls and friction are likely and one effect might be to wreck the entire work of conciliation started by Briand and Stresemann in their conversations at Geneva and Thiers.

PORT SURVEY PLAN HEARTILY ENDORSED BY MAYOR PENDRAY

Says Development Proposed Would be of Benefit to Whole City

Council to Give Final Answer To-morrow to Chamber's Proposal

In a wire from Edmonton this morning Mayor J. C. Pendray heartily endorses the suggestion of an immediate port survey with a view to analyzing Victoria waterfront facilities and recommending ways of putting them to the best account.

His Worship refers to Roger Pinneo, the consultant expert mentioned for the work, in terms of warm approval and compliments the Chamber of Commerce on securing an offer of the services of a man with such a wide and practical experience in port development.

DECIDE TO-MORROW

As the whole city would benefit from the development of Victoria port facilities the city should bear the expense, states Mayor Pendray in his wire to Acting Mayor Marchant to-day.

To-morrow at 2 p.m. the City Council will give its final answer to the suggestion, and that answer is expected to be a unanimous approval of the plan.

The proposals advanced by the Chamber of Commerce in this instance are that Mr. Pinneo be engaged to make a thorough study of existing port facilities here and to see how these can be brought into active use without the expenditure of further large sums of money. The plan entails the study of all lines of transportation and freight movements, and the finding of key shipments for the future.

The sum spent on the survey would be in the neighborhood of $2,000 this year. The city is asked to find this sum from within its various departments without going to the ratepayers for more.

ACTIVE MARINE BUSINESS

The scheme is being generally hailed as the first real effort to promote active marine business here from within and by drawing on the Island industries which heretofore have shipped to export markets through other centres than Victoria. Much of the tonnage can be diverted to Victoria when it becomes known the special advantages open here by virtue of location special facilities, it is said.

The man would make use of the Ogden Point and other ocean terminals, and increased tonnage would bring in its wake many lines of all-Island service which could meeters payrolls for the city, it is proposed. Promoters of the plan say that by going after business Victoria can retrieve its place as an active export centre, with a promising future.

The man mentioned for the survey, Mr. Pinneo, is one of the best known figures on the Pacific Coast, and a practical expert in port development. Mr. Pinneo is a personal assistant to H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and his services are placed at the disposal of Victoria through the courtesy of the shipping magnate.

INCREASE IN POULTRY INDUSTRY IS URGED

Boards of Trade of Fraser Valley Want Lower Freight Rates on Feed

Cloverdale, B.C., Sept. 30.—Equalization of freight rates to cheapen the cost of feed and thus promote the poultry industry of British Columbia, the urgency of paving the Interprovincial Highway from the Pacific Highway to Chilliwack, the claims of the Fraser Valley as an area free of bovine tuberculosis and as the source of the milk supply of Greater Vancouver, and the advantages of sending an advertising exhibit from British Columbia to Eastern Canadian fairs next year, were the chief subjects dealt with at the quarterly meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley here yesterday.

Sixteen delegates were present, representing the Boards of Trade of Surrey, Langley, Abbotsford, Sumas, Chilliwack, Ladner and New Westminster.

In an address to the delegates, Professor E. A. Lloyd of the University of British Columbia declared the poultry industry in the Fraser Valley was considerably handicapped on account of the discrimination in freight rates, which made the cost of feed higher than it should be. If the rates were equalized, he predicted, 500 new poultry farms would be in operation in the Fraser Valley in a short while.

A resolution proposed by L. A. LePrie, Chilliwack, urging the Provincial Government to hard surface the Interprovincial Highway to Chilliwack, with the exception of the recently reclaimed area in Sumas, was unanimously passed. A. D. Paterson, M.P.P. for Delta, explained the roadway at the curves that were straightened was not hard enough to be paved yet. He stated he intended asking the Government to oil the road, which he thought would prove satisfactory for the present.

RESCUED MINERS RECOVER STRENGTH

Forty-three Men Released From Pit in Michigan After 121 Hours of Imprisonment

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 30.—Safe after 121 hours of nerve-racking imprisonment in the damp depths of the Pabst Company's iron mine here, forty-three, hawkeyed men saw daylight from hospital beds to-day for the first time in almost a week.

Rest for them and the 400 men who had labored untiringly for their rescue was the order of the day.

Entombed 800 feet underground last Friday by a shaft cave-in which killed three mine electricians, the last of the forty-three miners were brought to the surface shortly before midnight, ending one of the greatest rescue efforts in mining annals.

EAT LIGHT FOOD

To-day the men were recuperating from their harrowing experience. They were given light foods, replacing their diet of birch bark tea brewed over improvised stoves made from lunch pails in their mine prison. Birch bark was stripped from mine reinforcements and seepage water was plentiful.

Most of the men, attending physiotherapy, will be able to go to their homes by to-night.

ACROSS "CAT WALK"

Shortly before noon yesterday, miners and rescue workers from Chicago worked their way to the eighth level of the mine. They threw coils and power lines across a thirty-foot chasm, and with the daring of tight-rope walkers skipped across to the imprisoned men, to be greeted by Tom Trewartha, a sturdy mine boss, who reported all hands well.

Rescue workers tapped a signal on an iron pipe shortly before they reached the men, and received a signal in reply.

George Hawes, assistant director of safety of the Pullman Company of Chicago, who formerly worked here and who had volunteered for rescue work, was the first across the "cat walk," and was greeted by Trewartha, who grasped his hand.

"How are you?" Hawes asked. "We are all O.K. Forty-three men, all right. We lived on the tea made from birch bark."

SHOUTED THE NEWS

Hawes shouted the news to his companions, and hurried to an outer shaft and reported the men "alive and well."

Shortly thereafter food and candle lights were sent to the men, while preparations on the surface were made to remove them to hospitals for treatment and to relieve them of their damp and soggy clothing.

Soup, coffee, cigarettes, chewing tobacco, and fuel for their lamps comprised the first load of relief supplies.

When the rescue was reported, sirens and horns of the town sounded the hopeful note which thousands had waited for since noon last Friday.

DEATH WAS RESULT OF MAN'S DEFENCE

Nanaimo Jury Finds M. Kinoshita Not Guilty of Murdering Compatriot

Nanaimo, Sept. 30.—M. Kinoshita, charged with having murdered Konashi Yonoshita, a fellow Japanese, at Port Alice, was acquitted on the ground of self-defence after the jury had deliberated fifteen minutes at yesterday afternoon's session of the Nanaimo assize court before Mr. Justice Murphy.

In opening the case, Victor B. Harrison, for the defence, challenged the bona fides of the jury on the grounds that the panel of jurors had not been selected from the voters' list of the entire Nanaimo County, but from the Nanaimo City electoral district alone.

Mr. Dodd, district registrar, gave evidence to the effect that the list of jurors had been taken from the Nanaimo list following the time-honored custom. All lists from all sections of the district had been presented, but the officials had selected the jury from Nanaimo district.

Prosecutor A. M. Johnson read statutes showing no objection could be taken to a jury unless it was

CUSTOMS INQUIRY TO BE RESUMED SOON

Commission of Three Judges to Hear Testimony in Number of Towns of Canada

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Measures for the suppression of smuggling on the Canadian-United States border will be one of the chief considerations of the Customs commission when it resumes its inquiry shortly.

The order-in-council, which enlarges the commission from one to three judges, was issued yesterday. It gives the commission the same powers which were possessed by the committee of the House of Commons which began the inquiry last February. It calls for the continuance and completion of the inquiry into smuggling into Canada, and further charges the commission to find out whether the treaty of June 8, 1924, between Canada and the United States for suppression of smuggling along the international border is being carried out "according to the declared intent thereof," and as to "whether any amendment to the treaty is necessary or desirable to insure the suppression of smuggling."

Up to a few days ago the little criteria opposing Mr. Bowser were hoping against hope that they could get Hon. S. F. Tolmie of Victoria to drop his seat in the House of Commons and his job as Conservative organizer to waste into provincial politics. It was thought Dr. Tolmie might have some chance against Mr. Bowser in a convention if he would be willing to risk such a fight.

But from Ottawa has come no word that Mr. Tolmie will turn West. On the contrary, everything is against such a move. There are several good reasons why Dr. Tolmie cannot offer himself up as a sacrifice on the altar of the inner official circle of the provincial organization.

In the first place, Dr. Tolmie will hardly risk a battle with Mr. Bowser in open convention. Outside Victoria Dr. Tolmie does not bulk as a large figure on the political landscape, while Mr. Bowser is known in every hamlet and backwoods camp in the Province.

In an open battle with Mr. Bowser Dr. Tolmie would be risking his whole political future with everything to lose and he would have to face a movement in favor of Mr. Bowser, which has been gaining momentum for two years and now is just about irresistible.

CANNOT OPEN SEAT
In the second place, Dr. Tolmie is finding it almost impossible to leave the Federal field. The Conservative Party in Ottawa cannot afford to allow Dr. Tolmie to come west. It cannot afford to open the Federal seat to be opened, of course, if Dr. Tolmie were a candidate for the provincial leadership as the convention would hardly tolerate a "safety-first" candidate who retained his House of Commons seat in case he were rejected here.

In the event of the Victoria Liberal convention being opened only one result would be possible—the Liberal Party in the House of Commons would increase its strength by one. With a Liberal Government firmly in power, where the idea of Mr. Meighen coming West originated no one seems to know but evidently it was evolved by Mr. Bowser's enemies. To all who are familiar with Federal politics and Mr. Meighen's place in them the suggestion caused only amusement; to Conservatives who are not so familiar with these things it caused only resentment. They object to the idea that British Columbia Conservatives cannot produce a man fit to lead it and that an outsider must be imported for the job.

PARTY ANNOYED
Meanwhile the internecine strife has spread to the outer crust of the Party. Conservative Associations all over the Province are getting annoyed at the delay in the convention plans. Many resolutions demanding an early convention are being passed and sent to the central executive. The central executive, it is thought, cannot remain long deaf to these demands. Victoria Conservatives are particularly strong in this request. On top of a strong resolution from the Women's Conservative Association demanding a convention came a similar resolution from the Central British Association last night and others will follow.

The convention this is likely to be held soon. And so far as it is possible to judge now its work will be simple. Mr. Bowser's name is likely to be the only one to go before it. A counter candidate willing to meet the old standard of the Party in this request will not be found.

At the moment Mr. Bowser is saying nothing. Instead of politics he is playing golf with Senator Green, one of the big guns of the Party in British Columbia. And what these two talk about between tea no one knows but their caddy and he, too, is discreetly silent.

French Aviators Failed to Make Long Flight Record
Paris, Sept. 30.—Sergeant-Major Arrachat and Capt. Arrachat, well-known aviators, who started Tuesday morning on a flight from Latakia, Siberia, in an effort to lower the long distance non-stop airplane record, have failed.

The French Air Ministry received a telegram from them last night saying: "Met bad weather in Eastern Russia. Landed at Narynshtevsk in Sverdlovsk district. Returning as soon as possible."

The distance covered by the brothers was about 2,500 miles.

HORSE RACING
New York, Sept. 30.—Laura Dianti carried the Belair stud sicks to a fine victory in the Stony Brook claiming stakes at a mile in the feature at Aqueduct yesterday, coming from behind to overcome Salta's five-length lead gained at the start. Laura Dianti was running away a length and a half in front at the finish. Black Bart was third. Time for the mile was 1:46.

Long shots turned in a lucrative day for the speculators. Dolan paid 15 to 1, winning the sixth at Aqueduct. Carton returned $72.60 for each $5 ticket to win the fifth at Hawthorne; Caroline Carter $49.20 in the first at Churchill Downs and Fire On $33.40 in the fifth at the same track. Atlantida paid $25.90 in the first, Saxatile $25.40 in the fourth and Kickapoo $23.45 in the fifth at Thorncliffe. At Beulah, West Point paid a winning ticket of $28 in the fifth race.

Earl Sande brought J. E. Didenor's Osmond home a half length ahead of Adios in the $15,000 Eastern Shore handicap over a six-furlong course at Havre de Grace. A sloppy track caused nine scratches in the race, run in 1:13. Jopagan was third.

McGill-Varsity Boat Race is Called Off
Montreal, Sept. 30.—The McGill University Rowing Club confirmed a report originating from Toronto that the first inter-collegiate eight-oared boat race, which was scheduled to take place on the Lachine (Montreal) course had been cancelled owing to the inability of the Torontonians to get away and to financial difficulties.

It was hoped that the race next Saturday would have been a fore-runner to an annual affair.

THE MEIGHEN TALE
Discouraged by the Doctor's silence, his friends here turned yesterday to Mr. Meighen, clutching at his name as at the proverbial straw. Precisely where the idea of Mr. Meighen coming West originated no one seems to know but evidently it was evolved by Mr. Bowser's enemies. To all who are familiar with Federal politics and Mr. Meighen's place in them the suggestion caused only amusement; to Conservatives who are not so familiar with these things it caused only resentment. They object to the idea that British Columbia Conservatives cannot produce a man fit to lead it and that an outsider must be imported for the job.

CLAMOR FOR MEETING
So far Mr. Maitland and other ambitious politicians who would like to be leader instead of Mr. Bowser have succeeded in stalling off the convention. That they can manage to pitchfork it into the New Year, however, is doubtful in the face of clamor for a meeting from all parts of the Province. The urge to choose Mr. Bowser and let him get to work is so strong that Mr. Maitland and the Conservative executive may have to yield to it in the near future. It would not be surprising, in view of the Party's demands for arrangements for a convention late in October or early in November were announced almost immediately.

The Party generally objects strongly to having the convention delayed and its work balked to serve the purposes of a few men who think they have a chance for the leadership themselves, if things are handled cleverly.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but until we perfected "Ironized Yeast," which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

"Vegetable Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lack energy and force, Ironized Yeast tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 50-tablet package or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario, Canada. (Advt.)

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN IN U.S. BEGINNING

Prosperity and Prohibition Major Issues of Fall Contests in the Republic

Washington, Sept. 30.—Prosperity and prohibition stand out as major political issues in the fall campaign in the United States, which is rapidly getting under way as state conventions return their nominations.

Official spokesmen for the Republicans and Democrats have exchanged broadsides on the prosperity issue, boomed by the administration supporters. Chairman Phillips of the Republican campaign committee declared prosperity was the paramount question and that the administration would stand on the prosperity issue. The Democratic organization replied that the Republican claims of good business must be attractive to thousands of idle mill hands in New England and that the western farmers would receive them with "their tongues in their cheeks."

SMITH RENOMINATED

Governor Alfred E. Smith was renominated for the fifth time at the New York State Democratic convention. He will be opposed by Orden L. Mills, Republican. The Democrats will support Robert F. Wagner in the Senatorial race against J. J. Wadsworth Jr., advocate of revision of the prohibition enforcement law. In Massachusetts, Senator D. I. Walsh and Colonel W. A. Gaston, nominee for governor, referred to modification of prohibition laws as the dominant issue.

GROESBACK FAILS

Detroit yesterday witnessed the downfall of the Republican machine of Governor Alex. J. Groesback. While 300 police kept Groesback supporters from the convention, delegates from Michigan upstate loudly acclaimed P. W. Green as gubernatorial candidate and returned a Green-picked slate in its entirety.

FAIR WEATHER FOR EX-GOVERNOR'S TRIP

Lord and Lady Byng Now in Mid-Atlantic on Way to Britain

Quebec, Sept. 29.—Reports from ships in the Atlantic indicate that Lord and Lady Byng, now crossing the Great Britain aboard the liner Empress of France, are enjoying fair weather for their voyage.

Before leaving here Tuesday, the retiring Governor-General said: "I return to England imbued with the ideals of Canadianism. I have absorbed them during five happy years in Canada, and it is my purpose to do my very best to maintain them. The ideals of Canada have been beneficial to this country and they will continue to be so, but it is not only Canada that they will benefit, for they will exercise an influence for good on the whole league of English-speaking nations."

GREAT FAITH

Prior to his departure Lord Byng received a representative of the Canadian Press in the library of Spencerwood, the residence of Lieutenant-Governor N. Perceval of Quebec. It was not an interview so much as an informal chat, in which Lord Byng gave expression again and again to his inflexible faith in the destiny of Canada and in the great part this country will play in the future not only of the British Empire, but of the world.

HOME WEDDING FOR LADYSMITH BRIDE

Ladysmith, Sept. 30.—A very pretty wedding took place on Monday morning in Ladysmith, when the Rev. Wm. Brown united in marriage Minnie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wesnedge, Roberts Street, and William, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Branch of Nanaimo. The ceremony was performed in the drawing-room of the bride's parents, under a festooned arch and wedding bell. The room was decorated with asters, dahlias, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves by friends of the bride.

Entering the room on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin, Wedding March, played by Miss Elsie Gregson, the bride looked charming in white Canton crepe with conventional veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. The bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Nellie Wesnedge, attired in peach georgette, and Miss Theima Gregson, attired in powder blue georgette, both carrying shower bouquets of roses and carnations. Little Miss Edith Reid of Fernie, B.C., made a dainty flower girl in pink crepe de Chine, and carried a beautiful basket of asters and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Wesnedge, mother of the bride, received the guests in a gown of fawn Canton crepe, trimmed with gold lace. Mrs. J. Mason sang during the signing of the register, "Because."

The groom was attended by James Cameron of Nanaimo. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held and luncheon was served in the dining-room, which was beautifully decorated in pink and white asters and roses.

The bride and groom left for Nanaimo, from whence they took the afternoon boat to Vancouver, where they will spend a few days before returning to reside in Nanaimo. Mr. and Mrs. Branch were recipients of many beautiful presents. Mrs. Branch was the raison d'etre of many social functions—proceeding her marriage. The out-of-town guests included J. Branch, brother of the groom, James Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Spruston of Nanaimo, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid and daughter, Edith, of Fernie, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson of East Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Fearon, Mr. and Mrs. S. Wright of Extension.

D. Jones of Port Alice, after an absence of fifteen years, is on a visit to his brother, W. Jones of the Diamond.

A. G. Stewart, school inspector, is spending a few days in Chemainus this week.

USE MR. PINNEO

THERE SHOULD BE NO HESITATION on the part of the City Council in engaging Mr. Robert Pinneo to make a thorough survey of this port in the interests of its early development. Mr. Pinneo is an authority on these matters with an excellent record of achievement. The development of the port of Astoria was largely due to him, and that alone is sufficient recommendation.

Until the people of Victoria make up their minds to help themselves this community will not progress as it ought to and can progress. The habit of waiting for something to turn up is futile. It should have no place in a young country. The rate of our progress depends entirely upon the measure in which we try to expand. Industries more than anything else reflect the mental and physical activity and ambition of a community. Everything favors the use of our port facilities as they were intended to be used, and if they are put to work in the proper way, an excellent start will have been made. Mr. Pinneo put Astoria on the map. Give him a chance to do the same for Victoria.

WHY ALL THE MYSTERY?

AFTER SEVERAL DAYS OF MYSTERY, a suggestion as to where Premier Mussolini would meet Sir Austen Chamberlain and speculation on what the nature of their conversation would be it has now transpired that the two statesmen got together today on an Italian yacht in the harbor of Leghorn. What the black-shirt leader and the British Foreign Secretary talked about, part or all, may remain a secret or be made public.

There are two interesting points about this meeting. One is that it had been arranged at the special request of Mussolini, Sir Austen being on a holiday cruise in the Mediterranean and therefore close at hand, as it were. The other is the extraordinary care which has been exercised by the Italian Prime Minister to prevent any information about the meeting point leaking out before it had actually taken place.

Secret meetings between diplomats may be all right under some circumstances, such as the meeting at Geneva between Stresemann and Briand, for instance; but the air of mystery which has shrouded the arrangements for today's tryst at Leghorn does not seem quite in accord with the aspirations of a Europe whose people already have suffered too much from the effects of back-stair diplomacy.

STILL SMARTING

WITH A CHARACTERISTIC DISREGARD of what other people and newspapers have little difficulty in regarding as fact the morning paper infers that Mr. Mackenzie King has undergone a change of mind about his attendance at the Imperial Conference in London next month. It says that a little while ago the Liberal leader was doubtful whether it would be possible for him to go to the gathering; but now he is going and intends to take some of his Ministers with him.

In a very definite manner the Prime Minister declared that the statement attributed to him expressing doubt about his journey to London was never made by him, that he had authorized no such statement, that at the proper time he would make his intentions known. As was only natural, Mr. King, objecting to certain hasty methods which marked the dissolution of Parliament, waited until he had been called upon to form a government before deciding upon a programme which he would carry out as Prime Minister. That was the correct course to take.

Such jibes at Mr. King are symptomatic of the present almost stupefied condition of the Conservatives. They simply can not get over the defeat of the party led by Mr. Meighen. They never expected such a decision by the Canadian people. They are like Mr. Dempsey. He said he was not sick before the fight; but sick after it. Yet his physical disability apparently has not blinded him to the usages of sportsmanship. He has no alibis and says the best man won.

SIR ALFRED YARROW'S PREDICTION

OPERATING ON AN ORDINARY schedule, with the regularity of train and steamship movements, twenty years from now will witness a regular service of aircraft, either by machines of the Zeppelin type or of the heavier-than-air variety, between Europe and North America. This was the prediction which Sir Alfred Yarrow made when he was interviewed in Montreal on Monday. With this prospect in mind he doubts very much whether it is a good policy to build craft of the maximum speed obtainable, for he considers it extremely probable that vessels capable of doing twenty knots, together with air transport, will afford the means of transportation in the future.

The well-known shipbuilder might have been even less conservative in his estimate of future developments. It is only just a little more than twenty years since the Wright Brothers flew the first heavier-than-air machine, and everybody knows what has transpired since that time. It may be that the uncharted air routes of the Atlantic sea lanes will present many problems to the aerial navigators of the future; but it must be remembered that the prospect of commercial aviation in Europe and on this continent was not much rosier after Blériot made his first flight across the English Channel than Atlantic air travel was after the R-34 had completed its journey from Britain to the United States and back.

If the development of aerial travel during the last twenty years justifies any prediction at this time, however, it certainly justifies that made by Sir Alfred Yarrow in Montreal. Whether the most practical machine for the trans-Atlantic service will be the dirigible or the aeroplane, or whether some unexpected invention will combine the two, time alone will tell. This phase of the business is now engaging the study of the men who have reduced aerial travel by the large heavier-than-air machine to something approaching the commonplace.

ALMOST A MIRACLE

PRACTICALLY EVERY MONTH, AND very often more frequently, the general public is reminded of the hazardous nature of the miner's calling. These reminders are also illuminating in their proof that the miner, despite the firesome and unhealthy conditions under which he has to work, in an emergency can show a quality of patience and fortitude approaching the phenomenal. What more hopeless situation could be imagined than that which confronted the authorities at the Pabst Iron Mine at Ironwood? Forty-three miners entombed half a mile below the surface of the earth for more than 120 hours! And still they came out alive after living on tea made from birch bark. Thus was there a happy ending to what at one time threatened to become a ghastly tragedy. To the rescuers, moreover, great praise is due. Their work was fraught with very considerable danger.

OUR TARIFF POLICY

From The New York Times

Canada has returned to gold payments. She has earned and paid her way out in the same honest manner that we did in our dark days. Within three years Canada's visible excess of exports has trebled. She did not decrease her purchases of foreign goods, but exported far more than she bought. Naturally the demand for Canadian dollars reduced by degrees the discount on them, and even at times put a premium on them. That honesty is the best policy for borrowers is shown by the difference in the reception of proposals for loans to the only market which can lend on a gold basis. Canada borrows on terms comparable with those of the United States. Announcement of a $150,000,000 loan follows those on the removal of the embargo on exports of gold.

We as well as Canada put tariff obstructions in the way of exchanges of goods. We gave our farmers a gold brick in the increase of customs duties on imports of grain and cattle, and now comes formal announcement in the Dominion Parliament of a "brick-for-a-brick" reduction. Canada will lower her tariff by a brick for each brick removed by our Congress. Canada is disposed toward revival of the reciprocity policy which she once rejected when we favored it. She would be glad to sell us cattle to consume our surplus of feed. Our millers would be glad to grind Canada's surplus breadstuffs. This is the sort of trade which profits both sides, but which the politicians obstruct on both sides. It must not be forgotten that Canada's brick wall has on the top a British preference which it is difficult to take off.

Swings on Drunken Wings

By ARTHUR N. PACK

Few there are who have not seen this creature of the dark "on drunken wings" going forth at night, the "gloom" yet such is the air of mystery that surrounded him, and the number of absurd qualities charged upon him, that few there be who really know him.

In Bible times the bat was one of the animals considered unclean, and this early sinister reputation has been hard to live down. He is said to harbor bed-bugs, a charge based on error; he will try to tangle himself in one's hair when that is about the last thing a bat would allow to happen. "Blind as a bat" is a ridiculous way to allude to the sight of an animal that, in semi-darkness of twilight, is able to catch hundreds of insects, large and small, in the course of a few hours.

This is the way the bat spends his life, catching insects, many of which infest our houses. All our North American species live entirely on active living insect prey.

Bats are of many species. Their habits vary. Some spend the day in caves, some in trees; some live only in tropical lands, while others live in Summer from our northern states to the Arctic, and migrate southward in Winter. Some do not migrate, but hibernate in semi-torpid state in deep caves, where the Winter temperature is relatively high.

Some are only a couple of inches long, while others of our species have a body length of four or five inches and a wing spread of nearly a foot and a half. Creature of darkness though he be, he and all his tribe are interesting.

"THREE ON A MATCH"

"THREE ON A MATCH"

Many a man hesitates to be the third "on a match" without ever questioning the origin of the popular superstition expressed. It is related that during the Boer War in Africa, the Boers noticed that the English soldiers frequently made one match serve to light three pipes of several smokers. So the crafty Boers began to take advantage of this pre-occupation on the part of several soldiers at a time. Upon seeing a group of three about to light up, the Boer would grab his rifle, take deliberate aim, and as the third soldier was about to light the pipe, the Boer would fire. From the English soldiers the phrase with its omen of misfortune has spread throughout the world.

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

To the Editor:—I read with interest, the account of Mayor Pendray's speech given in Seattle, before the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and I am pleased that as a result a gentleman was so impressed as to make the decision to pay his arrears of taxes, and I hope that more will follow his good example.

Reading the Mayor's speech in the local newspapers, I find he says in part: "The first time I entered the Council Chamber of the City Hall as Mayor, I was told that the City was in a financial situation which was critical. Year after year taxes continued to soar, with the result that each year saw ever increasing reversions of land and buildings. It was a vicious circle, the more land that reverted the heavier became the burden on those who at that time were considered unfortunate property owners. Many of our prominent business men were of the opinion that it would be in the best interests of all if the city went into the hands of a receiver."

"Those were the conditions of affairs as I found them when I was first elected as Mayor. They have been improved, but the policy, no more borrowings. Everything in the way of repairs, maintenance and extensions of present civic utilities are taken care of out of general revenue. The impression created by the quoted remarks of His Worship is that city affairs were in an appalling condition when he took office. He had found them in the past, but he had found them to his surprise well on the way to recovery when he took office. I think that would have been a fairer statement. For instance, the council of 1922 found the local improvement sinking funds far in arrears. The 1923 and 1924 councils were up against the same propositions as the 1922 council, and taxes had to be further increased to meet our just debts, which were incurred during the boom days. For the first time in many years the city in 1923 closed its year without owing the bank a dollar, and in 1924 the council had a surplus of approximately $150,000 for the council of 1925 to commence with, certainly a handsome legacy. All repairs, maintenance and extensions of the then civic utilities were paid out of general revenue, the same as now. In 1923 and 1924 the prepayment of taxes scheme began to become popular and increased largely each year. It was known to the councils of 1923 and 1924 that the year 1925 would be the peak year of high taxation, and that a gradual reduction would take place from then, providing no new capital expenditures were authorized, and that the council's policy of economy was continued. In 1924 under the regime of Mayor Hayward's council, the first reduction in the mill rate took place as predicted, giving a reduction in taxation to many. The reversed land situation was improving by 1924, and the Mr. Austin who held successful auction sales here in 1925 and 1926, would have held a sale that year, had not the reversed land situation, of which Alderman Todd was chairman, decided against it, after being interviewed by a very influential delegation of business men, who were as being inopportune at that time."

Mayor Pendray is not just to past councils, in broadcasting that Victoria's affairs were in the bad condition he says they were when he took office, when as a matter of fact the councils of 1922, 1923 and 1924 under Mayors Marchant and Hayward did the actual spadework, and laid the foundations for the civic fi-

Reorganization Effects Big Cut in Number of Provincial Employees

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—Efforts to remove the civil service from politics and to raise the standard of work has been achieved in Manitoba, and is meeting with success in the Federal field, according to speakers who delivered papers at today's session of the Citizens' Research Institute's convention, now in session here.

The reforms instituted, it was declared, are giving more and more popular with politicians, civil servants and the general public alike. "The old idea of the old saying, 'to the victor belongs the spoils,' is giving way to the more honorable concept of 'the best shall serve the state,'" declared a paper submitted by William Foran, secretary of the Canadian Civil Service Commission. J. W. Fleming, Civil Service Commissioner for Manitoba, explained the reorganization and economies effected in the provincial service. The Manitoba Civil Service now numbered 1,307 members. Reorganization had cut down the number from over 1,500, and efficiency had increased. Promotion, he said, was made from within the service in almost every instance.

The paper submitted by Mr. Foran, dealing with "Federal Service Conditions," was read by Dr. Horace P. Britton, director of the Institute. It was only in 1918, Mr. Foran stated, that the merit system was finally applied to the whole Canadian civil service, which now numbered 40,000, of whom 10,000 were resident in Ottawa. Reorganization had resulted in big economy in the case of one department alone, the savings being $750,000 per annum. The merit system was a real safeguard against the waste of public funds and success was being achieved.

Speaking from long parliamentary experience, W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford, Ont., said the patronage system had been nothing but a "vote loser," and not a "vote catcher."

Major Hume Crovson declared the tragedy of the civil service was that of poor pay, which he hoped to see remedied.

The convention concludes to-night.

OHIO THEATRE WAS BURNED

Bowling Green, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Fire destroyed the Beldmar Theatre building here yesterday, causing a loss of more than $100,000. Miss Ciola Coy suffered fracture of one arm when she fell in making her escape from an apartment on an upper floor.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Leominster, Mass., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Irene Leger was shot dead in her home here last night by Don C. Clark, instructor of manual training in the Fitchburg public schools, who turned the revolver on himself and committed suicide as police were entering the house. Constantine Leger, the widower, called the police.

SAYS TORIES WERE RIGHT IN POLICY

Conservative Programme, Though Rejected, Was Best For Canada, Dickie Asserts

Conservatives of Saanich tendered a flattering reception last night to C. H. Dickie, who was re-elected to Parliament recently in the Nanaimo riding. The gathering was held in the Lake Hill Community Centre Hall.

"We feel sure we Conservatives were right and that the policy we advocated was in the best interests of Canada," Mr. Dickie declared in accepting the tribute paid to him by the assembly. "We are going to keep on fighting. We must do our duty by Canada."

Mr. Dickie thanked the Saanich voters for supporting him at the polls and assured his audience that the Nanaimo constituency was best in Canada from all standpoints.

T. G. Coventry, M.P.P. for Saanich, who presided, highly praised Mr. Dickie's work for the district as for other parts of his large constituency. A delightful musical programme and dancing concluded the evening's entertainment. The following numbers were: Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Taylor, E. Impett, E. Blair, Mrs. S. Bowden and Mr. Axelbee.

WASP STINGS GIRL ON END OF TONGUE

Langford, Sept. 29.—Stung on the end of her tongue by a wasp while eating her lunch a small girl from Langford school was rushed to the Nightingale Health Centre here to receive treatment. Her tongue had commenced to swell and the girl was in great pain, but prompt action by Miss H. Kelly, the school nurse, saved her from more serious complications. Miss L. Peacey, the teacher rendered first aid, extracting the sting, but it was not until after a further treatment at the Health Centre that the swelling subsided.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed
External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation.
The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.
The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.
J. S. Leonard, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Vancouver Drug Co., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

$50,000 ASKED FOR BUILDING OF COLLEGE

Citizens of B.C. Invited to Assist Union Church Institution at Point Grey

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—When the Union College of British Columbia, Point Grey, is completed, one of its possessions will be the honor roll, a book which will contain the names of all who contribute to the cost of the college construction.

An immediate appeal will be made to British Columbia citizens for $50,000 to add to the sum of $50,000 the finance and publicity committee of the board of governors of Union College already have on hand. It is believed at least $25,000 of this sum will be secured without difficulty by special subscription.

The remaining $25,000 will be raised from congregations and Sunday-schools. Every church member and adherent will be asked to give not less than one dollar and every Sunday school scholar to give not less than twenty-five cents.

LONDON TIMES DISCUSSES WAR DEBT REVISION

London, Sept. 30.—Discussing the impending elections in the United States, The London Times, in an editorial to-day, contends that although at present there is no prospect of the people of the United States modifying their attitude on European debts, "the next five years will show the reparations and debts will not and can not be paid in any such measure as the politicians now declare, and that the politicians themselves will be forced to admit the impossibility that reparations and debts can be paid at all if the United States tariff is maintained at its present level."

The cancellation or revision of debts, the newspaper thinks, will not be sentimentally inspired, but recognized as an act of wisdom and necessity.

"It is only bare justice to admit," The Times adds, "that this recognition may be somewhat deferred with-out, for this reason, seeing in the United States a Shylock without conscience and without heart."

AT THE THEATRES

JOSEPH CONRAD NOVEL IS BEAUTIFUL FILM SHOWING AT COLUMBIA

And now a Conrad story on this screen!

The brilliant works of Joseph Conrad are as widely read as those of the most popular modern fictionist and William Fox has selected the most romantic of this author's wonderful writings to transfer to the screen.

In "The Silver Treasure" which comes to the Columbia Theatre, all of the adventure, daring, reckless spirit and bravado of Conrad's "Nostromo" are vividly depicted. The typical Conrad swing and development have been incorporated in the screen version.

Director Rowland V. Lee, maker of "As No Man Has Loved" and "Havoc," two spectacular William Fox successes, believes "The Silver Treasure" ranks with the best productions made under his direction. Advance report support this belief.

In the colorful role of "Nostromo," the central figure of the absorbing story, is George O'Brien, who, since his phenomenal success in "The Iron Horse," "The Man Who Came Back," "The Dancers," "Thank You" and "Havoc" has risen to spectacular histrionic heights. The Fox star is peculiarly fitted for this role. His smiling, buoyant personality dovetails perfectly with the rich description Conrad gives the dauntless adventurer of the South American coast.

ROMANTIC THRILLS OF NEWLYWED SEEN AT THE PLAYHOUSE

"Three Weeks in Paris," at the Playhouse all week, all but wrecks the optimistic spirit of Oswald Bates, a newly-married man, who bids his wife farewell at the siren call of business. His stay in the "city of romantic adventures" is a riotous period of ticklish situations that finally thrust him into jail. Free at last, he discovers that he is officially dead, and in desperation he returns to his bride in the guise of a chef.

WILL GIVE SONG RECITAL HERE

Louis Graveure, the celebrated baritone, will appear in recital on Monday evening, October 4, at the Royal Victoria Theatre under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club. He is the first of the international artists engaged by the club for this season, and his programme, already published, promises a delightful musical feast.

Then his wife elopes with another, and Oswald's long-tried patience explodes the whole fabric of droll mystery in a delightful manner.

CROWDS ENTHUSIASTIC AS "POLLYANNA" RUNS SECOND COLISEUM WEEK

Acclaimed by all who have witnessed it as the most wonderful play yet presented by Mr. Redmond and his talented company, the romantic drama, "Pollyanna," is playing to enthusiastic audiences who pack the Coliseum nightly. Jack Cassidy in the role of Jimmy Bean, Pollyanna's sweetheart, does some particularly fine work. While Pollyanna is in Europe the memory of "The Glad Girl" and her optimistic and charitable outlook on life ever remains fresh in his memory, and always is the means, when temptation besets him, of keeping him in the straight and narrow path.

SPECTACULAR MILL SCENES SHOWN IN CAPITOL OFFERING

"Men of Steel," showing this week at the Capitol, took more than three months to make. The great spectacular steel mill scenes were filmed in the Ensley Mills of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company at Birmingham, Ala.

The open red iron ore mines of the same company were used for mining scenes. Two great studios were required for the filming of the interiors. One of these was First National's own studio in New York, the other was the huge Cosmopolitan studios.

Some of these scenes taken in the studios required 700 people on the set at one time. Exterior scenes show more than 2,000 steel mill workers taking part in the picture—not incidental shots, either, but in regular scenes, in which the steel workers stepped in and played their roles.

Some idea of the greatness of the story may be gained from the fact that Judge Elbert H. Gray, head of the United States Steel Corporation, turned over the facilities of his organization to First National and appointed C. L. Close, manager of the Bureau of Safety, Sanitation and Welfare of the United States Steel Corporation, to represent his company and co-operate in every way with First National.

VALENTINO ADOPTS ROUGH TACTICS IN HIS LOVES SCENES

When Rudolph Valentino and Vilma Banky were filming love scenes for "The Son of the Sheik," the United Artists Picture which plays at the Dominion Theatre this week, Vilma filed a protest.

The Hungarian beauty is understood to have protested against the strong tactics of the desert lover's passionate quest. She said, "Too rough."

Vilma had only been in America long enough to play opposite Ronald Colman in "The Dark Angel," with Rudy in "The Eagle," and one or two other films beside "The Son of the Sheik," which is a sequel to "The Sheik." Hence her protest was voiced in rapid English, somewhat wanting in grammar.

"These sheik is too rough," she said one night after a day at the studio. "It is fight, then some more fight all the time. I am grabbed this way and that way. I am all the blue and the black; these men they forget. The sheik is never the gentle lover. He grab my two arms. Too much love. I am almost suffocate with the kiss. I do not like that love. But the script say that and so it is."

OFFERS SUGGESTIONS TO EXTEND SCOPE OF Y'S MEN'S CLUB

George Beck, representative of the local branch of the Y's men's club at the convention of the club in Camden, New Jersey, recently, offered a number of useful suggestions for organization at the first Winter meeting of the club held in the Y.M.C.A. last night. Mr. Beck, who has only recently returned from his trip, has several ideas for the betterment of the organization and his suggestions were enthusiastically received.

It was the decision of the meeting that the Y.M.C.A. should be given a helping hand by the Y's Men's Club in the fostering of boys' work.

Owing to the fact that several members of the club have left the city, a number of committees were re-formed, and a new secretary-treasurer elected.

New officers elected were as follows: Programme, George Beck, chairman; Membership, Sam Hill, chairman; House, Reg. Cross, chairman; Objective committee, Dr. J. C. Foote, chairman. W. W. Martin was elected secretary-treasurer, to replace Frank Gould, who has left the city.

Reading of Bible In Schools Urged

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Animated discussion of Bible reading in the public schools marked the closing sessions of the Provincial Sunday School Convention in First Baptist Church here, which concluded a three-day conference last night. After years of discussion and negotiation, the committee in charge stated a satisfactory solution of the difficulty was impending, and that a representative delegation would shortly wait upon the Minister of Education at Victoria to outline the plans.

More attention in the schools to health training was also advocated.

THAT SUPERIORITY OR INFERIORITY COMPLEX

The above title is just a grand name for the state of being confused or humble (too humble). Just as most complexes are bad things to possess so an inferiority or superiority complex is a state which is abnormal in both directions, because the owner of the complex sees himself in an exaggerated light, being either too meek or too arrogant for his own good.

Some one made the statement in my hearing that boys were always more conceited than girls. That is something to think about. Are they?
And if so, why? It seems to me that there is a really very simple answer to that . . . and it is a true statement, at least superficially.
Most mothers are intent on keeping their daughters from being conceited.
To that end they deprecate their good looks and try to pretend that they consider them only just bright enough, but not too bright. This method is more or less unconscious, but any mother, if she analyzes her feelings toward her daughters, will admit that she does this very thing —tries to keep from them a knowledge of their characteristics, either physical or mental.
But how about her sons? What does she do with them from baby-hood up? She tells them how marvelous they are. Such big men!
Not just as good but better than this or that playmate. She instills in her boy the idea of his superiority and when he grows up a little more there is always some girl who will carry on the good work. We all admit that the way to a man's heart is not by way of his stomach, but through his vanity. A man seldom listens to the accomplishments of his feminine friends, in fact the wise female keeps such things to herself; but he has no reticences at all when it comes to pouring his exploits in her ready ear.

He is used to such a receptacle for his confidences.

Perhaps, after all, this is just as it should be. The man with an inferiority complex is usually the one who has an exaggerated awareness that physically he is inferior to men of average make. If he has no adoring mothers and sisters to wipe out this awareness he grows up into one of those poor human "worms" who constantly apologize for being alive. It is better for the person himself and for society in general that men feel superior if they be of just ordinary mentality. The efforts of men of inferior physical standards to drag themselves up to extraordinary heights by sheer force of mentality is exemplified by history—Caesar, Napoleon, Milton, Steinmetz, to name
but a few.
In the future we may find mothers who will have the courage to give their daughters superiority complexes. Who knows how many feminine geniuses such a course may develop.

Ald. E. S. Woodward Criticizes Scheme Proposed by Vancouver Doctor; Provincial Council to Urge the Sterilization of Mentally Unfit

Criticism of the proposed State Health Insurance scheme placed before the Local Council of Women by Dr. J. H. MacDer-mot of Vancouver in June was expressed before the Provincial Council of Women yesterday afternoon by Alderman Woodward, who spoke on the subject at the invitation of the members.

WHAT ARE MALINGERERS?

The speaker agreed with the statistics given by the medical man as to the wages paid to workers in British Columbia, which averaged $83 per month, and pointed out that to reach this average there must be many who were receiving far less than this wage. In times of sickness the condition of these people was pitiable.

While insurance was the modern method of eliminating risk, this applying to fire and death, there was not in any country an insurance act which compensated for loss of working power.

To Dr. MacDermot's warning that any state insurance act should guard against malingerers, Mr.
Woodward countered with the question as to who was competent to judge if a man was malingering? He cited a case coming within his notice of a man who died after he had been proclaimed malingering by medical men.

ORTHODOX OR UNORTHODOX PRACTITIONERS

The speaker also claimed that the medical man under any State Health Insurance scheme should be paid a salary adequate enough to relieve him from worry and embarrassment and enable him to give all his time and attention to the cases. The payment of fees as suggested by Dr.
MacDermot might tend to make the doctor lose interest in a lengthy case, he alleged.

Alderman Woodward would also prefer the beneficial under-state health insurance be allowed to choose his own practitioner, whether orthodox or unorthodox, instead of being limited to a fully qualified medical man as suggested by the Vancouver doctor. The speaker also objected to the doctors' holding up of the Workmen's Compensation Act as a model on which to pattern a state health insurance act. He quoted cases which he claimed showed the unfairness of the former act, and declared that there was want of sympathy in its administration, too much red tape, and that under it he had found that the medical profession placed professional ethics before the welfare of the working-men.

RIGHT OF APPEAL

The right of appeal should also be included in an insurance act, the Alderman claimed, both to a medical or legal court. In this he had found many cases where the local council had refused to accept responsibility with him. In closing Mr. Woodward urged the women not merely to try and patch up conditions, but to get at the cause of this "iniquitous" system which led to the seeking of such remedies; there should be a real education of the people and they should be taught how to live.

Dr. Rene Bastien, Hudson observed that she had much experience of health insurance and similar schemes, and agreed that much of what Alderman Woodward had said was true, and that the local council together satisfied with the Workmen's Compensation Act, but they realized that it was satisfactory as far as it went, and that it was much better than many others in vogue elsewhere. In any insurance scheme cases of hardship were unavoidable, but she contended that her experience during the war had shown her many genuine cases of malingering, although the application of psychology with medicine had helped to solve the problem of the treatment of such cases.

As to the matter of freedom to choose unorthodox practitioners, Dr.
Hudson pointed out that it was largely a question that if the Government had to accept responsibility it had to have some standard on which to work.
At the conclusion of the address and the discussion the council passed a resolution asking the local council to give the question of state health insurance serious study in all its phases.

STERILIZATION CONTROVERSY

A resolution sponsored by the Westminster Local Council urging the sterilization of the mentally unfit caused some discussion. Vancouver and New Westminster councils voted for it, but Victoria abstained from voting on the ground, as Miss Crease explained, that opinion was so divided on the matter that the Victoria council felt it did not know enough of the pros and cons to take a stand on the matter. As Nanaimo had no delegates at the meeting, there was no vote from this council.

Mrs. Schofield registered a vigorous protest against the taking of a vote on "the most unthought-out piece of legislation ever asked," and one on which she considered the women knew insufficient to justify their taking a stand. Her protest was registered, although the Vancouver and New Westminster delegates claimed that they had given the matter over a year's study and had had every side of the case presented to their experts. The resolution will be forwarded to the Government as a majority vote of the council.

BATHING GIRLS' PARADE

Correspondence dealt with at the meeting included a letter from Alderman Woodward in reply to the council's protest against the parade of bathing girls in Vancouver. The letter was filed, the members deciding to renew their protest should occasion demand it.

Letters were also received from Dr.
H. E. Young promising to refer to the Government the council's protest against the alleged placing of the Government stamp on tubercular meat exposed for sale, and from the Department of Education acknowledging the council's request for a change in the text books on hygiene and physiology supplied to the schools.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Galbraith called the attention of the meeting to the movement inaugurated by the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Province for the foundation of a chair in home economics at the University of British Columbia, and bespoke the interest of the women present.

The meeting convened at the Victoria Club, Campbell Building, with Mrs. Paul Smith of Vancouver, the provincial president, in the chair.
Other provincial officers present included Mrs. D. J. McLachlan of Vancouver, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. R. C. Galbraith of New Westminster, recording secretary. The other three members of the Vancouver delegation were Mesdames E.

Mayor Bertha K. Landis of Seattle is in Vancouver to-day for the opening ceremonies of the new Women's Building. She will meet members of the Canadian Women's Press Club at luncheon, proceeding thence to the building for the opening, at which her address will be an outstanding feature.

Lieut.-Col. Beverley Brown, D.S.O., M.C., has returned to the city from Camp Hughes, where he has been taking a special course. He was accompanied from Vancouver by Mrs.

mother, Mrs. J. Y. Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nairn have returned to their home on Rockland Avenue, after accompanying Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw as far as Winnipeg, on their way to Montreal, where they sailed on the Empress of France for their home in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cameron of Hongkong, who were guests at Government House for a few days, have been visiting in Vancouver, where on Tuesday they were guests at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. H. T.
Lockyer. They will sail to-night on the Empress of Canada for China, accompanied by their niece, Miss Dorothy Bewley, of England.

Miss Margaret Campbell, who is leaving within the next few weeks for New York to continue her piano studies, was the guest of honor at a tea given by Miss Jean Mc-Laren yesterday afternoon. Mrs. F. M. Brody presided at the prettily decorated tea table.

Mrs. Robert Baird, the well-known Victoria singer, who only recently returned from Europe, where she continued her vocal studies, will leave again on Saturday for Paris to fulfil an engagement to sing in the Spring concerts at the Grand Opera.

Her many admirers in this city will watch her career with considerable interest and every good wish for her success.

A delightful birthday party was given at the home of Mrs. Novis, 1051 Topaz Avenue, in honor of their daughter, Violet Novis. The evening was spent in games and dancing and the music was supplied by a four-piece orchestra. At the hour of midnight everybody sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and presented the guest of honor with an ivory and amber clock. Those present were Mrs. Novis, the Misses A. Eve, Violet Novis, Margaret Wallace, Dot Novis, Thelma Dingwall, Hannah Smith,
Marjorie Graham, Alice Smith, Kay
Forbes, Violet Eve, Kay Tadmair,

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. Coplith-orne, looked charming in a dress of shell pink georgette over mauve satin embroidered with seed pearls and brilliants. Her only ornament was a pendant of amethysts. She wore a beautiful old embroidered Quincey net veil which was given to her by a friend. The veil was caught beneath a wreath of orange blossoms.
She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses with streamers of white tulle.
The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel Humphries of Victoria, who wore a smart gown of yellow taffeta, with silver shoes and stockings, and a silver band on her head. She carried a bouquet of pink roses tied with pink tulle.

The little flower girl, Miss Muriel Malcolm of Victoria, looked sweet in a pale blue georgette frock with silver band on her head and carried a basket of pink daisies. The groom was supported by Mr. Sidney Rob-

Sydney, Sept. 30.—A very pretty

WOMEN CAMPAIGN TO ENDOW HOME ECONOMICS CHAIR

P.-T. Federation Hopes to Raise $80,000 For University
Course; Objects Explained

A province-wide campaign to raise $80,000 for the endowment of a chair in home economics at the University of British Columbia has been launched by the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation of Vancouver.

Mrs. R. Melville Large, a member of the campaign committee, has issued the following letter on the subject:

"As the home is recognized to be the bulwark of the nation, the children in it the country's bride, hope and potential wealth, what more important education could the university give our girls than an interesting, attractive and efficient course in home-making? To our great ignorance and shame, housework, as it is called—this most vital of all the world's occupations for women, has been considered menial, and something to be avoided, if possible. We need to recognize the importance, the necessity of home-making. We need to dignify and give honor to it as a profession—a profession more varied, more arduous, but withal more instinctively feminine, and more soul satisfying than any other life work in which a woman can engage."

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

"Heretofore, in schools or colleges, Home Economics has not been given as high a rating, nor accorded an equal standing with other studies or professions, yet more of our girls enter, and stay in this work than in any other line of work. Strange to say, however, though successful home-making is actually the foundation of the world's health, wealth and happiness, it is about the only trade or profession where workers receive no special training. They learn what they learn from the standard of the home in which they happen to be brought up. Everyone knows that homes of great wealth, homes of the poverty, homes of aliens, or homes existing under unusual conditions do not give much scope for girls to gain knowledge of how to happily and confidently manage a home themselves. Even all mothers are not capable of thoroughly instructing their daughters.

"Then, too, many girls at home find housework irksome, uninteresting and monotonous. In fact, till the Great War taught us that only those who are useful are worthy of respect, many women thought it a mark of distinction to boast that they knew nothing about performing any of the work or duties of their homes. Now it is considered a disgrace for a woman to say that, but the idea is being more and more stressed, that a standardized training in all departments of the home, cooking for health, buying, family budgeting, and all the details of home-making with a degree of diploma at the successful completion of the course would make for more well-managed homes than there are at present."

"Even for women who may never have to do the actual work themselves, the knowledge of how it should be done is necessary before they can direct others to do it.
Those, also, whose work may be outside the home, but who take an interest in public life, will need to understand the problems of civic government, better housing, milk supply, reduction of infant mortality, juvenile delinquency, female employment, public health measures, etc., so that in a large way they can carry their wholesome, health-giving knowledge of the home and the family to the affairs of city, province or country and thus preserve and conserve human life while trying to make conditions favorable to pure, healthful, happy living."

"Not long ago an article was written by Lady Rachel Cecily Forster, wife of a former Governor-General of Australia, in which she said she thought women with brains should make full use of them in the kitchen as well as in the drawing-room. She held up Queen Mary as a model housekeeper who knew and managed all the minute details of her complicated household. Lady Rachel also said: 'The more intelligent a woman is, the better cook and housekeeper she ought to be. No woman is too highly educated to give her thought, time and good sense to the work of the house.'

"If these ideals can be held before our growing girls and young women,

NEWS IN BRIEF

The next general meeting of naval veterans will be held Friday, October 8, instead of to-morrow.

For driving to the common danger on Yates Street yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, Paul Marcot was fined $10 in the City Police Court this morning by Magistrate Jay.

The Rev. J. S. Patterson will continue his series of Biblical expositions on the book of Revelation on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the lecture room of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West.

The "Joy Girls" Group of C.G.I.T. will meet on Friday, October 1, at 7 p.m., at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West. Miss Thornley V.O.N. will address the girls on "Health."

Lake Hill Community Centre will open their dancing season with a dance on Wednesday evening, October 6. Pitt's orchestra has been engaged and will supply the music from 9 until 1.

The Victoria branch of the Tuberculosis Association will hold their next general meeting on Monday, October 4, in the clubrooms, P. R. Brown Building, at 8 p.m. All members are urged to be present as business of vital importance will be dealt with at this meeting.

The president, officers and members of the Victoria unit, Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, desire to express their appreciation and thanks to all who kindly assisted by decorating the city and entertaining the delegates to the ninth annual Dominion convention of this association.

The Victoria Grass Hockey Club will hold the first of a series of games at the Victoria Club Rooms, sixth floor, Campbell Building, Friday, October 15. Zala's orchestra will be in attendance. Dancing will commence at nine and continue until one o'clock. Buffet supper will be served by the ladies of the club.

The Marion MacRae Mission Band met in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Monday to hear addresses by Rev. and Mrs. Cameron from the Congo, also to reorganize their work for the coming season under the able leadership of Mrs. T. Humphries and Miss MacGowan. Refreshments were served and an offering for missions given by the thirty-five children present.

The civic court of revision on the 1927 assessment roll will open at City Hall to-morrow at 10 a.m. There is only a light list of appeals for a revision of property assessment. Real estate agents, representing clients, will be the largest single group before the board. Fewer appeals are listed this year than usual, due to taxation cuts and a marked reduction in civic assessments.

Acting Mayor William Marchant and many aldermen made a tour of condemned buildings this morning. Owners of the dwellings have a right of appeal on this occasion, though most cases involved are those of buildings standing under no appeal. It is likely to be made against their enforced demolition. The provision is an annual one, designed to remove unsightly dwellings after their use has passed or their surroundings condemned on grounds of health or other circumstances.

Totals of the value of new construction in the city for the first nine months of this year exceed last year's figures for the same period by $155,832, being the highest total recorded. The month to month value of the permits has been maintained, but increases shown at the first of the year have grown with considerable steadiness. July was the highest total recorded, with figures of over sixty per cent. in advance of the same month last year. Permits issued to date this year number 281, compared with 250 at this date last year.

The residence of George Schwabe, 952 Arden Street, was the scene of a dangerous blaze this morning. Fire fighters from the municipal headquarters were engaged in fighting the outbreak from 7:45 o'clock, when the alarm came in, until 11 o'clock this morning. The fire was under the floor near a big open fireplace. The damage is estimated at about $150. The place was covered by insurance and is the property of George G. Young, its value running to approximately $20,000. Chief of Police Dawley was in charge of the fight against the flames.

The Veterans of France Association held a well-attended meeting in the quarters last night with President J. E. Green in the chair. Several matters of urgent importance were dealt with, including some interesting correspondence. It was decided that the local branch will join as a unit of the Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L. as soon as certain definite information is available from the Dominion council of that body. Two delegates were appointed to the Armistice Perfor Committee, which will have full control of operations in connection with the forthcoming Poppy Day. Thirty new members were added to the strength of the branch.

In addition many sorrowing friends attended the impressive service at the Sands Funeral Chapel, where Rev. J. S. Patterson officiated. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A profusion of floral tributes was piled about the casket. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Sherratt, S. Sherratt, J. MacIntyre, J. Simpson, H. Chisholm and F. Brown. Interment took place at the Ross Bay cemetery.

BUSINESS AWAYS CANADIAN MARKETS OF SOUTH AMERICA

Rotarian E. L. McColl of Buenos Ayres Tells Rotary Club of South America

Rotary Club Superfluities Sale on October 20 to Aid Solarium

Rotarian Major E. L. McColl of Buenos Ayres, Canadian Government Trade Commissioner to the Argentine, addressed the Rotary Club to-day at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel ballroom, telling of trade opportunities offered by South America.

The brief summary of conditions was followed by adjournment to a darkened private dining-room, where a most interesting array of lantern slides were shown.

Major McColl sketched the strong campaign of United States business to dominate the markets of the Argentine, pointing out that the success attained in recent years has been due in great part to a vast outpouring of capital investment in South America, much of the money made available carrying terms requiring expenditure in the United States. "But it will be years before the security enjoyed by British business is approached," he considered.

TO AID SOLARIUM

The Rotary Club will hold a superfluities sale on behalf of the Solarium on October 20 in the Gordons Building on Yates Street, President Tomlin stated that plans are also being considered for operation of booths on Yates Street, possibly with closure to traffic of the block between Douglas and Blanshard Streets.

The co-operation of all the other service bodies of Victoria is being sought, the Women's Canadian Club, L.O.E. chapters and the Kunitz Club being enlisted to assist by operation of stalls. President Tomlin urged all members to work for success of the superfluities sale, and asked that all other appointments for October 20 should be cancelled. "We expect to get that big store building filled to the roof with good things given by the public for the sale," he said.

REBEKAHS HELD NOVEL STYLE SHOW

75th Anniversary of Order Observed by Fashion Parade, 1851-1947

A fashion show depicting the changes in styles from 1851 to 1947 was the novel entertainment arranged by the Colfax Rebekah Lodge on Tuesday evening at a social evening in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Rebekahs. The styles were depicted by thirteen ladies and one man dressed to represent the change of fashion every twenty years, led by Sister Lola Walker as Rebekahship, the different periods being represented as follows: 1851, Sister Rhoda Ward; 1861, Sister Alice Brown; 1871, Sister Munn; 1881, Sister Bessie; 1891, Sister Shaver; 1901, Sister Edith; 1911, Sister Edwards; 1921, Sister Dorothy Todd; 1926, Sister Johnnie; 1936, Sister Kirby and Olive Bainbridge; 1947, "a bride," Mrs. W. D. Todd.

Dust at the evening solos were given by Miss G. Townsend and Mr. Bryant, with C. Deaville at the piano. An amusing skit was given by Mrs. W. D. Todd and J. Davis, and the evening closed with the serving of refreshments by members of the social committee.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Hay, the lodge held a silver tea at her home, Dallas Road, on Wednesday, October 6, to which members and friends are invited.

WORK ON FLUME ENDS FOR YEAR

Five and a Half Miles of Line to be Rebuilt Through Period of Years

Work on the big B.C. Electric flume at the Jordan River plant which is being renewed throughout its entire length piece by piece, is now practically completed. It is only in the summer months that this work proceeds, the rainy season making it impossible for renewal work to be carried on. The flume, about fifteen years old and nearly six miles in length, carries a tremendous quantity of water throughout the year and its renewal is essential.

The trough itself is supported on bents, and these must also be renewed. Since early Spring and all through the summer workmen have been toiling over the flume, and yard after yard of it has been torn out and replaced with fresh timbers, and new bents erected. Since 1911 the flume has stood with only minor repairs having been necessary, but the need for reconstruction work has been felt recently and through the next few years it will be rebuilt.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The second game of the city series between the White Sox and Cubs was postponed to-day on account of rain.

SEA SERPENT STILL ON JOB

Kelowna, B.C., Sept. 30.—W. Green, manager of the Empress Theatre, reports seeing a sea serpent fifty feet long near the C.P.R. wharf to-day. His statement is corroborated by R. S. Mos, prominent lumberman, who saw its wake.

CANADA RATED HIGH IN BANKING WORLD, SAYS N.Y. BANKER

Lewis H. Strauss of Great International Financial House Leaving For Orient

"More and more the United States investor is demanding that Canadian securities have a place in his portfolios," said Lewis H. Strauss, the eminent New York banker, on his arrival here this afternoon. Mr. Strauss, who is sailing this evening on the Canadian Pacific liner, the Empress of Canada, for Yokohama, said that Canadian Government, provincial and other bonds were thought most highly of on the New York market.

"The fact that Canada can readily borrow money," said he, "in the United States at a very low rate of interest, is proof positive how much her securities are in demand south of the line."

Mr. Strauss also spoke with enthusiasm of the fine crops which he said he came west to see. Canadian Pacific lines, especially in Saskatchewan and Alberta. He expressed the opinion that the delay in harvesting them would not affect their value as much as at one time seemed likely.

Mr. Strauss, whose firm, Kuhn, Loeb & Company, have been official bankers to the Imperial Government of Japan since 1905, referred in addition to the excellent relations that existed both in a political and commercial sense between the United States and Japan, and scouted the idea of trouble arising between the two countries.

"Financially, Japan stands very high with us," concluded Mr. Strauss. "In fact only last year my firm arranged a loan of $150,000,000 in the United States for the Japanese Government."

Former Victorian Dies in Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 30.—J. W. Stinton of Brighouse, a prominent old-timer of British Columbia, passed away in the General Hospital Monday night.

Born in Greenville County, Ontario, 1847, after completing contracts on the Union Pacific Railway at the time under construction. He left the city soon after, however, to look after his interests in the placer mines of the Omineca. Returning to Victoria in 1872, he entered business as a builder and contractor.

Mr. Stinton was the builder and proprietor of the first public water supply system in Nanaimo, on which he began work in 1879. He also constructed the present system for the Nanaimo Water Works Company. For six years, from 1885 to 1901, he was chief of the Nanaimo fire brigade, in which office he earned the hearty appreciation of the city.

He moved to Lulu Island in 1901 and has resided at Brighouse and in Vancouver since then. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. G. A. Thorpe, of Buffalo, and two sons, G. E. and A. L. Stinton, both of Vancouver.

Autoists Break Down Gates at Rail Crossings

Montreal, Sept. 30.—Several accidents at level crossings of the Canadian National Railway lines in which motorists have driven headlong into crossing gates or crashed into the side of trains have been reported recently. The latest of these occurred on the night of September 28 at Charlo, near Bathurst, N.B., when a car in which two people were riding crashed into the side of a standing freight train. The driver was slightly injured and the car was damaged to the extent of $75.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Quelp, Ontario, and Toronto are other points from which similar accidents have been reported to Canadian National headquarters, and in at least one case, when the driver broke down the protecting gates at the crossing, action was taken against him by the railway company and he was condemned to pay for the damage he had caused.

BUILDING PARLEY DRAWS ATTENTION TO UNIFORM CODE

James Barf, City Building Inspector, is Victoria Delegate

Graphic illustrations of sections of the proposed uniform building code for Pacific Coast cities, developed at San Jose at the fifth annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference, proved a feature of the conference sessions now concluded.

J. Kennedy of the Portland Cement Association, conducted a demonstration in the convention hall, illustrating the provisions of the final preliminary draft of the code, as related to structure construction. The practicality of the regulations for use of this material as set down by the code was shown, and the fact demonstrated that these regulations insured a good stucco job.

A demonstration of the methods for securing beautiful color combinations and effects in stucco work completed the demonstration, graphically illustrating the many possibilities and versatility of stucco.

"The conference has gone farther toward evolving a modern, practical uniform building code than any other agency I know of," declared James Barf, Building Inspector of Victoria, B.C.

"While there are minor technical matters that must be straightened out, the final preliminary draft of the proposed Pacific Coast uniform building code is without doubt a tremendous advance over any available code. It is especially adapted to Pacific Coast building hazards, and is the result of co-operation by the best engineering and architectural talent, and the best technical minds of the building materials industry."

"The code should prove to be a model for all cities of the coast, large and small. It is noteworthy in having a background of competent unbiased authority, and in being based on the fair police power of municipalities. It is eminently fair in that it considers all available building materials on the coast."

Outstanding addresses of the sessions included talks on the necessity for a contractors' license and bonding law, and criticism of the inadequate architectural license law by Oscar G. Knecht, San Diego Building Inspector; a talk on "New Materials" by J. G. Horne, Tacoma Building Inspector; an address, followed by general open discussion, on "Sprinklers and Fire Prevention," by H. E. Plummer, superintendent of building of Portland and president of the National Building Officials' Conference; a discussion of "Dry Rot" by C. J. Hogue of the West Coast Lumber Extension Bureau at Seattle; and an analysis of "Recent Court Decisions on Building Matters," by E. W. Bacon, Building Inspector of Phoenix, Ariz.

The curtain will go up to-night for the first time on the comic opera "Foxy Quiller." The show is to be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-morrow night and Saturday with a special children's matinee on Saturday afternoon. The curtain for the evening shows will be elevated at 8:15 o'clock.

To-night sees the culmination of several weeks of strenuous work by members of the Gyro Club and their friends. The clubmen have been extremely fortunate this year in securing the services of such splendid entertainers as Mrs. Lily Wilson, Miss Beth Simpson, Mrs. Betty Hetherington, Frank Tupman, Frank Partridge, Herbert Kent and Art Kerr. The cast is extremely well rounded out and a most brilliant success is predicted for the show.

This marks the second effort on the part of the Gyros as theatrical performers. Last year they produced "The Beauty Shop," a musical comedy, which was the finest amateur show ever given in this city.

Miss Marion Wilson, of the Victoria Golf Club, and Miss Sayward, of the Colwood Golf Club, will meet to-morrow in the finals for the women's city golf championship, which is now in the hands of Mrs. H. Miss Wilson, besides being a finalist, also won the qualifying round in the championship with a splendid score of 78.

WON ON NINETEENTH

Miss Wilson had a great battle on her hands before she gained the right to play in the finals. Her opponent Mrs. Philbrick, a former city champion, made a gallant effort to win the match. Miss Wilson was downy two as they teed off at the seventeenth. Mrs. Philbrick, with a great burst of golf, won the next two holes and squared the match necessitating an extra hole. At the nineteenth Miss Wilson recovered her stride and won the match one up.

Mrs. Hutchinson pushed Miss Sayward to the limit in the other semi-final this morning. Miss Sayward was one up at the sixteenth, but Mrs. Hutchinson could not break through the game of her opponent on the remaining holes. The seventeenth and eighteenth were halved leaving Miss Sayward the winner, one up.

One of the most popular competitions of the year at the Victoria Golf Club is for the Challenger and Mitchell Cup. The qualifying round of eighteen holes is to be played on Saturday next. In the qualifying round the full handicaps, limited to twenty-four, will be allowed. The best sixteen net scores will qualify for the cup flight. There will be other flights, according to the number of entries. In playing off the flights three-quarters of the difference of the handicaps will be allowed so that a player with a high handicap has an equal chance with one with a low handicap. The entrance fee will be $1, and post entries may be made. Players are to arrange for their opponents, also for their starting time, and may play either in the morning or afternoon.

Root's Fine Work On Mound Too Much For the White Sox

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Charley Root hurled the Cubs to a 4-0 triumph in the opening game of the annual city series with the White Sox at the Bruin stronghold yesterday.

The White Sox were unable to give Root's offerings with any degree of certainty or consistency and contributed considerably to their own downfall by frequent blunders, some of which were commission and others of omission.

"Red" Faber started on the mound for the Sox and was a great pitcher while he was in there. The Cubs scored two runs off him in the third but Root's wild throw to first messed up a certain double play and put the veteran spitball pitcher in the hole.

The scores were: R. H. E. White Sox.....0 4 2 Cubs.....11 0

Hyslop Is Winner Of V.A.S.C. Swim For Second Week

Swims Fifty Yards in Twenty-nine Seconds to Take First Place; Buller Second

Children's Gala on October 15 Will Be Good; New Life Saving Class

For the second week in succession Frank Hyslop copied his victory in the fifty-yard dash, held by the V.A.S.C. at the Crystal Garden last night. Hyslop swam the fifty in 29 seconds flat. Bert Buller was second and Bill Robertson third.

There were eighty-nine members of the club at last night's swim and some keen competition was witnessed. General all-round improvement was noted among the swimmers and divers and officials of the club feel confident that the weekly meets are doing a lot in the way of improving the style and speed of their aquatic stars as well as the beginners.

LIFE-SAVING CLASS
The elementary life-saving class drew twelve youngsters. These juniors went through their paces before Ralph Alcock, the life-saving instructor.

Mr. Alcock has formed another life-saving class for the Royal Life-saving Society's bronze medallion. Five members enrolled for this class last night, and the first meeting will be held next Wednesday night at 7.30 o'clock in the Crystal Garden. Any-one over sixteen years of age is eligible for this class.

At next Wednesday's meet there will be a junior diving competition from the one metre board.

CHILDREN'S GALA

Preparations for the children's swimming gala on October 15 are now practically completed and indications are that it will be a big success. A large number of entries have been received for all events and before the entries close a record list is expected. Among those in attendance at the gala last night were the party of Canadian National Railway ticket agents who are on an educational tour of the Dominion. The visitors were highly enthusiastic over the water sports and a number donned bathing suits and joined in the fun.

FANS SYMPATHIZE WITH HORNSBY IN HIS HOUR OF GREAT SORROW

New York, Sept. 30.—The dying wish of Mrs. M. D. Hornsby that her son, Rogers, stick to his post as manager and second-baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals and lead his team against the New York Yankees in the coming world series is to be carried out.

The grief-stricken Cardinal leader had contemplated a race to the bedside of his mother in Austin, Texas, that would have kept him out of the first two games of the classic starting here Saturday. His mother, who has watched from an invalid's bed for the last eleven years the steady march of her son to baseball leadership, died yesterday, and he was informed that her last wish was that he stay with his team.

Her funeral will be held after the series and he will attend. The spirits of the Cardinal players, downcast at the news of Mrs. Hornsby's death and the possibility that their leader would be out of the lineup for the first two games, lightened a little after his decision to stay was made known.

Sorrow over the death of Hornsby's mother was expressed today by Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, the Cardinals' opponents in the coming world's series, John Mordy, president of the National League, and K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball.

"Hornsby," Landis said, "will have one of the hardest fights a man ever had to get hold of himself. A boy feels deeply the loss of his mother, but I think a man feels it even more."

"As it was my mother's dying wish that I remain with my team until after the series is over, hard as this will be for me, I have decided to carry out her wishes," Hornsby said when told of his mother's death.

Hornsby was torn between conflicting emotions of a desire to be at her bedside and loyalty to his team when he went automobile riding before she died at the Austin home. Returning to his hotel, he found advice of her death and telegrams from members of his family saying that his mother had insisted to the very moment of her death that he remain with his team in its fight for world baseball honors.

The Cardinal manager had made tentative arrangements to bring his mother to St. Louis for the series of games played there, but a week ago it became evident her condition was too serious for her to undergo the trip. Mrs. Hornsby repeatedly expressed the hope that she might live until the conclusion of the series. She was confident that St. Louis would win.

For eleven years she had been an invalid and much of the time was spent in bed.

Left a widow many years ago with five small children, she reared all to maturity. About four years ago, however, one of her sons was shot to death in a restaurant at Fort Worth, Texas, and two years ago another died after an operation for appendicitis. The loss of these sons contributed to her decline.

Bays and Bakers Open Season With Fine Wins

First Soccer Games in Wednesday League See Last Year's Leading Teams in Role of Victors; Navy and Tillieums Capable of Better Football and May Surprise Fans Before Season Has Gone Far

Last year's champions of the Wednesday Football League, the Hudson's Bay, and their most deadly rivals, Rennie and Taylor's, got off on their right feet yesterday afternoon and won the opening games in the mid-week league. The Bays conquered the Tillieums by 4-1, and the bakers raced through the Navy by 4-1.

Fair crowds of spectators gathered at both games, the Bays and Tillieums playing at the Royal Athletic Park, while the other teams were engaged at Beacon Hill. The teams gave every evidence of being a little stronger and better balanced than last season, and there should be a great scramble for the pennant. The scores were a little one-sided yesterday, but the two losing teams are capable of much better football and, once they find their bearings, will make the present leaders tighten up their belts and fight to stick on top.

NAVY FADED IN SECOND HALF
The Navy may have a good showing in the first half of their match with Rennie & Taylors. The blue-jackets had plenty of dash and tried desperately to gain a lead. Drake put them in front with a splendid shot for the first goal of the game, but before the interval Speak found the net for the equalizer. In the second half the blue-jackets were unable to measure strides with the bakers. Three goals crashed into the Navy's goal off the toes of Taylor, Jeffreys and Sepak. The blue-jackets were unsteady and, while they had a few chances to score, they were for the most part outplayed by the bakers.

Howison handled the whistle and the teams were. Rennie & Taylor—Gillam; Gilbert

Ruth Sets Record For Participation In Diamond Classic

Bambino Plays in His Seventh World's Series, Breaking Quintette Tie

Big Fellow May Also Send Other Records Into Discard in This Series

New York, Sept. 30.—Babe Ruth will break his first world series record by going out to the park and taking his place in the opening game. If the big fellow retains a grip on his health and is able to play, he will enter his seventh world's series. No other player has played more than six.

Tied with Ruth up to this year at six participations in the baseball classic were J. Franklin Baker, Everett Scott, Eddie Collins and Wally Schang. Baker is farming and not interested in playing world's series baseball. Scott, Collins and Schang can not better their records at the moment for the White Sox and Browns are not winning pennants this year.

The leading exponent of baseball biff played three world's series under the colors of the Boston Red Sox and wielded his mace in as many series for the Yankees.

OTHER RECORDS MAY FALL
Other records may be expected to fall if the Babe is on his game. He will have to score more than eight runs to better one mark—for he is tied with Tommy Leach for the most runs scored in one series at eight.

Ruth is tied with "Goose" Goslin and Joe Harris of Washington for the most home runs in one series, three, and with Hooper of the Red Sox and Kauff of the Giants for two home runs in one game. Ruth smashed out his circuit blows in successive innings, October 11, 1923.

The Babe is tied with a number of fellow athletes, past and present, for the number of extra-base hits in a series, with five, but holds undisputed first place for the most extra bases on long hits; eighteen, compiled in 1918, 1921, 1922 and 1923, by four home runs, two triples and two doubles. He also has established a tie with Hooper and Kauff for the most extra bases on long hits in one game, six.

LEADS IN WALKS

He was in a receptive mood for a record in 1923 when he was given eight bases on balls during the series. The versatile Ruth also has his name engraved in the department devoted to pitching records. He pitched twenty scoreless innings for the Red Sox in 1916 and 1918, going thirteen innings the first year and sixteen the second.

Ruth has a total of four world's series home runs against six for Goslin of the Washington Senators, who hit three in 1924 and three more in 1925. Ruth will have to get three in the series to establish a new record.

Japanese Davis Cup Players Defeated In Doubles; Win Singles

Vancouver Players Make Good Showing Against Harada and Tawara

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—In three exhibition tennis matches between Taketchi Harada and Tawara Tawara and a number of British Columbia players, the Japanese Davis Cup stars were defeated in the doubles, but won the two singles encounters at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club yesterday.

Geoff Peers and A. S. Milne, vanquished the Japanese by a score of 6-4, 4-6 in the doubles. Harada defeated Jack McGill 6-4, 9-7, and T. McMillan lost to Tawara 6-1, 6-2.

There was some brilliant tennis in the doubles encounter and the general hundred fans were given a rare treat. The Japanese were five games down in the second set, and looked like being washed out, until they rallied in great style and took four straight games.

Peers was in exceptionally good form, his work at the net being of a high order. McGill was seen to advantage in his match with Harada.

and Davies; Taylor, McKinnon and Stewart; Caskie, Speak, Jeffreys, Field and Collier.

Navy—Barker; Whyte and Cooper; Freshwater, Robinson and T. Whyte; Peters, Drake, Roberts, Bracey and Burdon.

The Bays ended the first half of their match with the Tillieums two goals to the good. Woodley and Cull each scored a goal for the Bays. The Tillieums made several hot attacks but inexperience in front of the net let them down.

Whenever the Tillieums got a line on the net they were beaten back by Shrimpton, in goal.

Two more goals flew into the Tillieums' net. Fisher getting one and Woodley the other. The Tillieums had a chance to score on a penalty but Rutledge was faulty with the shot.

Rutledge, however, drove home a good goal before full time. MacMillan was the referee and the teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton; Armstrong and Gardiner; Cull, Gibney and Kirchin; Addie, Fish, Clark, Woodley and Harrison.

Tillieums—Player; Wallace and Post; Ross, Hocking and Kemp; Richard, Owens, Rutledge, Borden and Tooby.

Yankees Favored In Betting To Win Out

More St. Louis Money, However, Is Appearing as World Series Approaches; Hornsby and Ruth Will Be Big Attractions in Series; St. Louis Has Edge in Catching, Bob O'Farrell Being Outstanding Backstop; Record Demand for Tickets in New York; Both Teams Workout

New York, Sept. 30.—As the opening of the world series approaches, more and more St. Louis money is reported as appearing in the betting marts. The prevailing odds are still quoted at six to five in favor of the Yankees, with a Broad Street firm announcing the placing of a single wager of $12,000 to $10,000 that the Yankees win the series.

The firm has made one wager of $1,000 against $12,000 that the Yankees take four games in a row. An offer of wagers at 14 to 1 that St. Louis does not win four straight and 3 to 1 that the Cardinals do not win the first two games have also been made.

New York, Sept. 29.—Two redoubtable circuit-smashers, Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and home-run king in 1922 and Babe Ruth, Sultan of Swat for all times, will draw the attention of fandom in the world's series.

Babe's twelve-year record includes five years in which he waded more than forty homers from American League pitchers in the course of the season and contains two years 1920 and 1921 when he hit 54 and 59 acros Hornsby's best year was in 1922, when he took the crown from Ruth with 32 circuit clouts. The Cardinal leader has averaged 18.5 homers a year for his ten years of recorded play. Babe has hit 19.75 homers a season for twelve years, the first five of which were spent with Boston and the remainder with the Yankees. Hornsby has played continually with St. Louis.

New York, Sept. 29.—If Rogers Hornsby knows his cards, and he thinks he does, he has an ace in first-string catchers, Bob O'Farrell. The former Cub is credited by his manager with being the most valuable player on the club and this flattering opinion is shared by many other well-known ball men.

Although Hank Severel carries vast and valuable experience with him behind the bat for the Yankees, and what Collins is a dangerous long distance shot, O'Farrell, if necessary, still is a major league apprentice.

O'Farrell and Collins have the same batting average .292 if the unofficial averages are to be believed, the source being that each was

A dimeful daily will suffice—KRUSCHEN'S worth three times its price.

Costs No More— Lasts Much Longer!

Quantity does not always imply quality. The unnecessary bulk found in ordinary health salts demands large and disagreeable doses which are harsh on the sensitive organs of the body. This increases the cost and necessitates frequent trips to the drug store. At best, the results are unsatisfactory.

Kruschen Salts contain quality in compact, unadulterated form. A 75 cent bottle lasts longer than ordinary salts and, therefore, costs less. The standard daily Kruschen dose is just sufficient to cover a dime. One bottle will last about six months, and in regular daily use costs only half a cent a day.

Kruschen is tasteless in tea or coffee. It contains nothing but the six mineral salts which every human organism requires for the regular and efficient elimination of waste materials that clog and poison the system—the cause of most ills.

While youth prevails, nature tolerates many abuses—overeating, overwork, worry, etc. But when the abused body needs nature's aid most during the years of maturity, she is liable to foreclose and demand prompt payment in the form of numerous maladies. You can forestall such a tragedy by cultivating the daily Kruschen habit.

True, "it is never too late to mend"—yet all progressive physicians admit that it is better to prevent disease than to remedy it. A perfect body is better than a patched body. The systematic daily Kruschen habit—your "dimeful" of prevention—will keep you sound in mind and body, fighting fit to tackle successfully "the cares that infest the day."

Every druggist sells Kruschen. Get a bottle today—start to Kruschenize to-morrow! It's the daily dimeful that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

The dose of a dimeful taken every morning is found in practice to be the amount of a most invigorating daily tonic. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from pains of rheumatism, gout, lumbago, or habitual constipation, with inactive liver, etc., is half to one teaspoon.

FEDERAL GRANTS FOR ROADS ARE URGED

Completion of Transcanada Highway Suggested by Good Roads Association

Edmonton, Sept. 29.—A resolution passed by the Canadian Good Roads Association at its annual meeting here calls for re-establishment of Federal aid for road-making.

Another resolution urges early completion of the Transcanada Highway.

Both resolutions, approved yesterday afternoon, will be sent to the Federal Government.

Honorary past presidents, Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads, Quebec; Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General of Canada.

Honorary president, Hon. W. R. Clubb, Minister of Public Works of Manitoba.

First vice-president, Hon. J. Oliver, Premier of British Columbia.

Honorary vice-president, Hon. P. C. Black, Minister of Highways of Nova Scotia.

Secretary-treasurer, George A. McNe, Montreal.

The directors include P. Phillip, Victoria.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED

Several papers were read at the sessions yesterday.

If the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company can be developed successfully, a road-making industry which requires the removal of twenty-five feet of sandstone rock to reach a twenty-five-foot deposit of rock asphalt which has been blasted out, which has a bitumen content of seven per cent and must compete with refinery asphalt residue at $8 to $10 a ton, then surely Fort McMurray bituminous sands, which can be loaded on cars for 30 cents a ton, have double the bitumen content, twice the depth of deposit and can compete with asphalt residue at $36 to $43 a ton, have a future potential value in the developing of a similar road-making industry in Alberta.

This was the argument presented by Dr. S. C. Ellis of the Mines Branch of the Federal Government.

Dr. Ellis was down on the programme to speak on "Alberta Tar Sands," but he preferred, he said, to call his address "The Birth of a New Industry," because the development of the use of Fort McMurray sands which he felt was coming, would mean just that to the people of the North and to the people of Western Canada in general, who were seeking a solution of the problem of good roads.

Fort McMurray is on the Athabasca River nearly 250 miles north-east of Edmonton.

R. M. Smith, chief engineer of the Ontario Highways Department, read a paper on "Bituminous Application for Gravel Roads."

E. H. Scott of the Asphalt Association gave a short address on "Newer Uses of Asphalt in Highways," and the general discussion was led by Patrick Phillip, Deputy Minister of Public Works of British Columbia.

Hon. H. A. McKewen, chairman of the Railway Commission, and Hon. G. S. Henry, Ontario Minister of Highways, were called to the platform by the day's chairman, Hon. P. C. Black, Minister of Highways of Nova Scotia.

A noon luncheon, a heavy programme of technical addresses at the afternoon session, the annual general meeting, and an evening banquet completed the day's programme.

LOG DEMAND KEEN AS MILLS SPEED UP

Double Shifts in Vancouver Mills; Fir and Hemlock Rise in Tacoma

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 29.—Despite threats that many mills may close down owing to the minimum wage of 40 cents per hour being enforced November 1, there is a steady demand for fir logs, stocks having been run low with two shifts working at most mills. A premium of $1 is paid for best grade fir logs. Adverse harvesting weather, on the prairies may hold up orders anticipated but brisk trade is expected when the grain money is in circulation.

Log prices are unchanged as follows: Fir, $10, $15, $20; cedar, $8, $14, $22; hemlock, $11.50; spruce, $13, $20, $30. Export—March base, unchanged, Jap. 60-40 squares, $21; Jap. bables 4x4, 4 1/2 x 4 1/2, $22.50; hemlock, 4x4, $20. Domestic—Average schedules, Atlantic $48, fir, $18.50 (steady); hemlock, $17.50 and $18; common dimensions straight cars, $2.50 off rail B long lengths, $4.50 off rail B short lengths, firm.

Intercoastal charters show strength. Although a large percentage of September parcel space was booked at $13 later bookings have been on a basis of $14 and $14.50. If a boom is caused by rebuilding in Florida, rates are predicted as high as $18. The following charters are posted here:

City of Vancouver, British steamer, 2,525 tons, to load lumber from British Columbia to north of Hatteras in September or October on private terms for Southern Alberta Lumber Company.

Taiwan Maru, Japanese steamer, 4,267 tons, to load lumber from North Pacific ports to Japan in October on private terms for Canadian Transport Company.

Borgestad, Norwegian motorship, 2,338 tons, to load lumber from British Columbia to north of Hatteras in September or October on private terms for Southern Alberta Lumber Company.

Pajala, Swedish motorship, on time charter to load for Pacific trade with Australia in October of November for General Steamship Corporation.

SOUND LOGS HIGHER
Tacoma, Sept. 29.—Outlook for the logging industry in this district is much brighter with an increase of $1 per 1,000 board feet on fir and hemlock prices now in effect, local loggers report. The new prices, based on the loggers since early last Spring, comes with the creation of a shortage of logs here.

There was a slight shortage of No. 3 logs late in August, but with the reopening of practically all logging camps at the close of the forest fire season, this situation was relieved temporarily. However, the mills also began operating on a 100 per cent basis, with the result that the supply of logs could not meet the demand.

Lumber prices remain unchanged. Both the Atlantic Coast and California markets are fair. There has been a slight improvement in the rail demand during the last few days.

Log prices: Fir, $13, $19 and $25; hemlock, $12 and $14; cedar, base, $15.

Lumber prices: Common $48 f.a.s. Atlantic shipment, $15 and $19; common $48 f.a.s. California shipment, Nos. 1 and 2, $18; No. 3, $11 and $12.

Langford

Langford, Sept. 29.—The monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. L. Brown, president, presiding. The president expressed her thanks to all helpers both at Langford show and Laxton fair.

Satisfaction was expressed at the completion of the kitchen and wood shed at the hall, the work being entirely done by voluntary labor. Miss L. Savory was elected to represent the district at the Victoria and District Gardeners' Association. Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. E. H. Phipps and Miss Savory were appointed delegates to the Provincial W.I. Conference.

The correspondence included particulars of the November potato show, Farmers' Institute regarding home economics in the university, etc. Ten questionnaires were given out to the conveners with the request that they be filled in immediately for reference at the provincial conference.

Mrs. Kinloch, chief commissioner of the Girl Guides movement, a visitor to the meeting, gave interesting details of the guides and hoped the day would soon come when a leader could be found for a branch at Langford.

Mrs. Frank Campbell, the district convener of legislation, gave a splendid talk on the district builder's plan, which was first formed in Manitoba. She pointed out the great need for the right kind of settlers and the help to newcomers such as an association was. The plan of having successful farmers recounting their experiences in different kinds of stock, land, poultry, etc., was of the utmost value to the newcomers, she said.

Mrs. F. Campbell and Mrs. Kinloch were heartily thanked for their interesting talks. Tea, served by Mrs. J. L. Brown and Mrs. E. H. Phipps, concluded the pleasant afternoon.

All contributions of flowers, vegetables, fruits and corn for decorating St. Matthew's Church should be sent to the church about 2.30 on Saturday afternoon. Helpers for the decorating will be welcomed.

The Rev. William Carroll, vicar of St. Luke's, Cedar Hill, will be the preacher at the evening service, 7 o'clock, Sunday, October 3.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock all friends are invited to the harvest home in the shape of a whist drive at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Simpson, Peatt Lane.

Mrs. Kinloch from Shawnaigan is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Townsend Allen, of Melrose, Peatt Lane.

James Adam, W. W. Hall and Commissioner W. E. Stanland Are Mentioned

James Adam, a past president of the Victoria Rotary Club and prominent local retailer, may allow his name to go before the electorate for the office of City police commissioner.

Mr. Adam stated last night that he was being pressed by his friends to stand, but had not yet reached a final decision.

Only one vacancy occurs on the board, that created through the completion of his two-year term by Commissioner Walter E. Stanland. Commissioner A. M. Aitken has another year to serve. The Mayor of the city is the chairman of the board, succeeding automatically to the police post

Radio Show Opens at Crystal Garden To-night

RAPID PROGRESS OF RADIO DEVELOPMENT SHOWN AT SHOW OPENING TO-NIGHT

Fine Exhibition of Latest Ideas in Radio Will Be Opened at Crystal Garden This Evening by Hon. John Oliver; Victoria Amateurs Show Fine Home-made Receivers;

Excelling all previous efforts, the Victoria Radio Club offers at the Crystal Garden to-day its third radio exhibition, to be formally opened at 8 o'clock by Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia.

With more space available this year, the Radio Club is able to excel in number of exhibits the highly successful show held at the Garden last Fall, and the reputation attained by previous successes resulted in immediate applications from manufacturers and dealers for more space than is available.

The stands have been decorated with lavish hand by the exhibitors, and in many instances will show novelties for the coming season not yet publicly announced by the manufacturers.

The development of simplicity in operation of radio receivers will be the most striking point notable to the unexpert visitor. Multiplicity of dials and controls is a thing of the past. This advance is accompanied by a remarkable development of beauty in cabinet work, many of the instruments on view being furniture worthy of the finest homes in the city.

Operation of the latest models shows that total quality has advanced in step with lessened complication of operation. Reproduction of the speaking voice is the greatest test of perfection and receivers on view are capable of completely deceiving the ear when operating on stations within a thousand miles.

MESSAGES TO FRIENDS
A feature of the exhibition will be the operation of a short-wave amateur broadcasting station from the garden in co-operation with the American Radio Relay League. Messages will be accepted for transmission to all parts of the world, free of charge, and members of the Radio Relay League are organized to establish a test as to the percentage of these messages which can be handled. The preparations include transmission of return messages to Victoria from the parties addressed by patrons of the exhibition.

The Radio Club has received from a number of prominent manufacturers of radio instruments several unusually valuable prizes. After the close of the exhibition these will be distributed to patrons of the show, the recipients to be selected by an impartial committee to be named by the executive of the club.

Among the exhibitors at the show are the following: Radio Sales Service Limited, Vancouver; Radio Specialties Limited, Vancouver; S. Goucher, Colwood; Western Canada Radio Supply Limited; C. W. Radio Service Limited; E. G. Prior & Company Limited, Liability; The Radio Shop; Jim Bryant; Fletcher Bros.; Kent's; Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Limited; Sun Electric Company; Canadian General Electric Company Limited, and Radio Inventions Limited.

The list of competitions is as follows: Crystal sets for boys under eighteen, novelty sets, open; best converted regenerative set, amateur; reflex sets, amateur; Brown-Drake set, amateur, and Bremer-Tully circuits, amateur, and superheterodyne, amateur.

Class for professionals to include any type of non-radiating set; low-wave transmitter, open; low-wave receiver, open; home-built loud speaker, open, unit may be purchased; home-built "B" battery eliminator.

It was decided that no set entered last year will be eligible. The committee reserves the right to accept or reject amateur entries, to decide what class sets will be entered in and to test all prize-winning sets.

Amateur Is Aided

New regulations making adequate provision for the operation of privately owned radio amateur stations have just been put into effect in Denmark, according to a bulletin issued by the International Amateur Radio Union.

CALLING "MISS AUSTRALIA"

Anastasia Reilly of the Ziegfeld Revue is sending a radio amateur message inviting Beryl Mills, who is "Miss Australia," to be an honored guest at the Radio World's Fair in New York City September 13. Viola Statler, Brooklyn, candidate for Miss Radio, 1926-27, and J. B. Kilpatrick, traffic officer of the Executive Radio Council, are helping to send the message.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE RADIO WORLD

Single Control, More Tubes, Loops and Eliminators

By ISRAEL KLEIN

Improvements that will make radio reception easier and more enjoyable mark the beginning of this radio season, as reflected in the recent Radio World's Fair in New York.

Receivers are more fool-proof, easier to tune, more selective and highly sensitive. They are encased in artistic boxes and consoles, so as to make them pleasant pieces of furniture suitable for any drawing-room.

Yet their prices on the average are no higher than those of former years.

The outstanding improvement in the radio field is the trend toward simplicity of operation. The single tuning control is almost universal. The only other controls on the panels of the receiving sets are a volume control and a vernier.

There are receivers with two and three tuning dials, but even these are so arranged that they may be operated as one, by interlocking the condensers.

MORE TUBES IN SETS

The second big step in this season's radio progress, and a surprise to many interested in the industry, is the development of receivers with more tubes, rather than the elimination of tubes. The three-tube re-

Who's First Broadcaster?

Belgium claims the first, in the person of Raymond Brillaud, now president of the technical commission of the International Radio Union.

Brillaud, so the claim goes, transmitted concerts weekly from a station at Laeken, near Brussels, beginning in the Summer of 1913 and continuing until he had to dismantle it in August, 1914, because of the war.

Receiver couldn't be discovered among the 300 exhibits at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Most were receivers with tubes running from five to nine in number.

Radio frequency sets, with even four stages of radio frequency—heretofore thought impracticable—will hold their own against the neotronics and superhets. These are the three prevailing types of hook-ups. Regenerative and reflex receivers are no more. Perhaps the reflex will return, improved, but it hasn't shown up this year.

With more tubes comes the loop. More receivers, heretofore sold for outside aerial use, are being made for loop reception. Use of the loop requires more tubes for stronger operation.

BETTER TUBES, TOO

Use of the loop also is justified by the introduction of power tubes for audio amplification, and a much more sensitive tube for detection. These are the innovations in vacuum tubes.

To make the loop aerial even more practicable, receivers are being shielded against internal interference and for greater sensitivity and selectivity.

For clearer reproduction, audio transformers in receiving sets are being made larger to cover the entire range of voice and instrument without distortion. And loud speakers, as being made more sensitive and powerful. The cone type prevails.

For the operation of these improved receivers, battery eliminators of all sorts are being shown this year. In fact, more than fifty firms now are producing more than eighty different types of battery eliminators.

FEW A ELIMINATORS

They're both A and B. battery eliminators, although the B type is more general. These are of three kinds, depending on the rectifier employed, the device that converts the 110-volt alternating current of the house line into the direct current required for the receiver, ranging from 25% volts to 135 and even more volts.

One type of rectifier is the Raytheon, which is designed on the electron bombardment principle. Another is the thermionic rectifier, as the Rectron tubes. And the third is to chemical rectifier. All have equal representation this year.

Some receivers are designed to take current direct from the house line. They have rectifying mediums installed as part of the outfit. The show in New York failed to bring out a receiver with A. C. tubes, to take the current directly from the A. C. power lines.

Despite these improvements, however, A and B batteries still are holding on to their popularity. For there are many homes in the United States that aren't wired for electricity.

English Theatre Audience to See U.S. Radio Star

New York, Sept. 30.—Wilfrid Glenn, one of the 500 artists heard at the Radio Industries banquet on Wednesday at the Astor Hotel, sails for England next week. Mr. Glenn will be one of the first radio artists to appear before a European audience, when with Franklin Bauer, Lewis James, Elliott Shaw, and Eddie Smalley, he appears at the Princess Theatre, London, for a six weeks' engagement.

70,000 IN DENMARK

Denmark has about 70,000 radio receiving sets in use, according to a report to the Department of Commerce. Copenhagen, the capital, has 45,000, of which 35 per cent are tube sets.

TEETH PULLED TO RADIO

Dr. G. M. Smith, dentist, has found that radio concerts entertain his patients while he is working on their teeth and helps them forget the pain.

PERMANENT RADIO BROADCASTING PLAN

R.C.A. Paid $1,000,000 For Station WEAF Says Report

New York, Sept. 30 (Special).—The formation of the National Broadcasting Company, Inc., as a solution of the problem of establishing national and permanent radio broadcasting was announced by Owen D. Young and Gen. James G. Harbord, chairman of the board and president, respectively, of the Radio Corporation of America, in a formal statement to-day.

M. H. Aylesworth, formerly chairman of the Colorado Public Utilities Commission, and more recently managing director of the National Electric Light Association, has been named as the president of the new company which will make station WEAF, formerly owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, as the nucleus of a national broadcasting service.

ACTIVE CONTROL, NOV. 15

While all the plans of the new company have not been formulated, it was stated last evening that the National Broadcasting Company, Inc., would take control of WEAF on Nov. 15 and might lease time from other stations. The policies of the new company were outlined fully in a statement jointly by Mr. Young and Gen. Harbord, and it was pointed out that any group of stations, willing to finance a cross-country chain, would be welcomed in the field, either competitively or co-operatively. According to the statement the R. C. A. paid $1,000,000 for station WEAF.

"There have been more than enough broadcasting stations to serve the public," Mr. Aylesworth said, "and the essence of the formation of the National Broadcasting Company, Inc., is to conserve and make permanent existing facilities rather than to add anything to the growing contention for wave lengths."

BEST PROGRAMME AVAILABLE

"The purpose of the National Broadcasting Company will be to provide the best programme available for broadcasting in the United States. The new company will not only broadcast these programmes through station WEAF, but it will make them available to other broadcasting stations throughout the country so far as it may be practicable to do so, and they may desire to take them."

"It is hoped that arrangements may be made so that every event of national importance may be broadcast widely throughout the United States. The National Broadcasting Company, Inc., will flourish in proportion to the manner in which its programmes please the public, and it will be the policy of the company to arrange its programmes constantly with this thought in mind."

Helpful Hints

One of the most satisfactory methods of reducing interference is by the use of a small aerial with very sensitive radio frequency amplifiers ahead of the detector tube and also by the use of very loosely coupled circuits.

It is much easier to get radio telephony "through" this kind of interference than to receive radio telegraph, because voice messages may often be understood from the context even though some parts of it are "smothered" by the static.

Aerial wires placed parallel to electric light and power lines in some cases produce a continuous hum. This can usually be reduced or entirely eliminated by running the aerial at right angles to the power line.

Interfering noises heard in the receiver at irregular intervals are often caused by atmospheric electricity.

These disturbances are variously called "static," "atmospherics," "straps"—and many other names. There are undoubtedly many causes for these interfering sounds, but their sources have never been completely explained. The "atmospheric" disturbances are more troublesome in the summer months than in the winter, and also more serious in the tropics than in northern latitudes. Some sources of interference that produce sounds very similar to atmospherics are leaky transformers or defective insulators of power lines, faulty arc lights, operation of X-ray machines or vibrating chargers, sparking of trolley wheels at the contact with the trolley wires, sparking at commutators of electric motors, run-down or discharged "A" or "B" batteries, etc.

ONE YEAR SHOWS GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN SETS

By ISRAEL KLEIN

Radio has changed in the last year as much as the automobile did in ten.

Building a receiver, like building your own car, is already almost passe. Only the amateur and real dyed-in-the-wool fans—those who like to tinker with wires and such—still build their own sets.

For it doesn't pay. Nowadays the radio fan can buy a receiver of any kind for much less than it would cost to buy just the parts. The time and trouble in building the set, and the question whether it will work when finished, are additional.

Yet set building isn't all that relegated to the earlier days of radio—

although we're still in the early stage. The manufactured product itself is quite a revelation. Even the receiver of last fall is ancient compared to that of to-day.

NO WIRING SHOWN

Wires are being covered up. Even the tubes, condensers and other apparatus in the receiver are being arranged and boxed in shields of copper almost as much for appearance as for greater efficiency. The receiver within is a clean, finished product, as opposed to the jumbles of wire still in use through the country.

Outside the set, leading to the batteries, the charger, the aerial and the ground, wires made a mess of a pretty living room corner. They still do to-day in many homes. But that's passing also.

Instead we're coming to loop receivers, eliminating the unsightly outside aerial and ground connections. Many loop sets are coming out this fall, sets ranging from six to eight and nine tubes, much more powerful and effective than ever.

ONE LINE TO BATTERIES

The unsightly storage battery and dry batteries, too, are either being boxed into compact and attractive form, or are being eliminated. Only one trunk line, now, is required to lead from the receiver to the box that holds charger. A battery and B battery all in one. And there's another line from this box to the electric light plug. That's all.

Even here, elimination of one of these two lines is being sought in the design of a receiver getting its A and B battery power direct from the electric light line. This immense improvement has not been perfected.

The set itself, when finished, is an attractive piece of furniture, far superior to the ugly-dialled apparatus that is now on the decline. Leading cabinet makers are making the boxes and consoles for the receivers, so that they may be kept on a par with other furniture in a room.

That is only for appearance's sake. Besides, there are many innovations to make the set foolproof and easier to operate—one dial control; freedom from squeals and howls, greater selectivity even at the low wavelengths, elimination of tube and other noises, greater volume with less distortion of sound.

Altogether, the modern receiver, although far from perfect, is a decided improvement over that produced only a year ago.

Unpopularity Contest

An unpopularity contest is a novel feature originated by the Maxwell ensemble through WJZ, New York. The purpose of the contest is to discover which selections or types of music have become tiresome to radio listeners.

The person who is dissatisfied with his present furnished room might be interested in what you have to offer—if you first find him through an ad.

A. Lavergne Sues For Damage Award Following Election

Quebec, Sept. 30.—Armand Lavergne, K.C., of Quebec, has taken action in the Superior Court here, claiming $5,000 damages against a citizen of St. Paul du Buton. The plaintiff, who was Conservative candidate in Montmagny in the recent Federal general election, alleges the defendant, Arthur Bernier, declared following the election campaign, that he (Lavergne) had received $100 for each of his political speeches and consequently was not seriously in the political battle.

ROBBERY IN ONTARIO

Dunville, Ont., Sept. 30.—Entering Ray C. Cline's garage here, an armed man lined the proprietor and two customers up against a wall, and scooping up $779 from a counter, backed out the door and disappeared.

NEW SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

CHAPTER III

The episode which very nearly put an end to Doris' destined operatic career by plunging her into early matrimony, occurred on a bright, hot afternoon in August.

Looking back on it long afterward, she rather wished it had ended as the scandalized townspeople demanded. She was nineteen years old and a nice, cuddly, domestic type of young person. She adored housekeeping and liked to fuss around the kitchen.

Marriage, she felt, was her destiny, not the operatic stage.

She was a delectable sight in a gingham apron, but she looked more like a sleek little worldling playing a stage role than the real article. Her fair hair was of such an unusual shade as to be unreal. Her eyes reminded the beholder of the old warning: "Beware the green-eyed woman!"

The dark lashes, the coral mouth, and the satiny pallor belonged to a brunette.

Altogether, her appearance was as misleading as her temperament, for the daughter of the high-strung Elaine Vanessa and the mysterious Englishman, Edgar Mackay, a comfortable, wholesome, happy-go-lucky, rather lazy young person, with the body of a syph and the voice of an angel!

But though her appearance and her personal predilections were greatly at a variance, destiny could not be expected to take such comparatively minor considerations into account. The good fairies—what ever one chooses to call the mysterious forces who presides over each human soul from birth) got on with their job after a long, idle period—the whole period of Doris' girlhood.

Perhaps these celestial personages have a system—a sort of card-index of souls—and, occasionally running through the files to weed out "dead letters," they come across one with a fair, almost unwritten page. "By jove!" they probably say to themselves. "It's time we got busy. Nothing's happened to this party for ever so long."

And straightaway, something happens. The thing that happened to Doris had a simple beginning. She went blackberrying with her most ardent admirer—a young fellow named Turner, who was the only son of the town lawyer and quite matrimonially eligible.

They drove out of town in young Turner's flivver. The windshield was open and the hot wind blew through the silvery nimbus of Doris' hair and whipped a soft flush into her cheeks. Her companion could scarcely keep his eyes on the road. He was trembling on the brink of his first proposal.

"We must get heaps and heaps of berries," said Doris, so practically that his sentimental overtures faltered and fell flat. "I'm going to make jelly and jam and jam I'll get Aunt Elsie to ask you to supper to-morrow night, and I'll bake you hot biscuits to go with the jam. I can't eat, when I look at you."

They found the berry bushes near the outskirts of the woods already stripped of their fruit, so they penetrated deeper into the morass of trees and underbrush where great, juicy, purple globules waited the vines.

Their pails were soon full and their fingers and lips stained with the spoils. It was then that young Turner spied an old trail. He proposed they follow it.

They left their pails and began an arduous scramble through the underbrush. It seemed a perfect wilderness to Doris, but her companion led the way with a certainty won her admiration for his woodmanship. Briars tore at her frock and scratched her arms and ankles, but she was game.

It began to grow darker—much darker than the thickness of the trees would account for. She glanced up at the narrow strip of sky visible through their tops, and saw that it was black and ominous.

"Oh, Danny, it's going to storm," she cried. "We'd better hurry back to the car."

He too saw the sky and abandoned the trail with reluctance.

"Only a summer thunderstorm, but I guess we'd better get out of this before it breaks."

"Listen!" warned Doris. "that's thunder already. Oh dear, I hope it doesn't lightning. It scares me to death."

confessed young Turner with desperate earnestness.

Doris bubbled with laughter. "That's the most uncomplimentary thing I've ever heard!"

"Well, you know what I mean," he stammered, flushed and disconcerted. "Gee, Doris, I'm crazy about you."

"Here are the woods," she interrupted him. "Turn to the right and follow the lane. The berries are wonderful. I came here last summer and got more than I could carry home."

"Oh, but you've got my car now," he assured her, proudly. "We can carry home every berry in this woods."

"There's twenty miles of it!" scoffed Doris, leaping out without waiting for assistance. "Old Webster told me that some people got lost in it once and weren't found for days."

"Rats! I've gone hunting here. I know every inch of this place," he boasted.

"Hurry up," she urged. "Bring the pails."

She ran lightly ahead of him, while he set a rock under the rear wheels of his car and prepared to follow her. He was a slightly stout youth and it made him puff to keep up with her.

They found the berry bushes near the outskirts of the woods already stripped of their fruit, so they penetrated deeper into the morass of trees and underbrush where great, juicy, purple globules waited the vines.

Their pails were soon full and their fingers and lips stained with the spoils. It was then that young Turner spied an old trail. He proposed they follow it.

They left their pails and began an arduous scramble through the underbrush. It seemed a perfect wilderness to Doris, but her companion led the way with a certainty won her admiration for his woodmanship. Briars tore at her frock and scratched her arms and ankles, but she was game.

It began to grow darker—much darker than the thickness of the trees would account for. She glanced up at the narrow strip of sky visible through their tops, and saw that it was black and ominous.

"Oh, Danny, it's going to storm," she cried. "We'd better hurry back to the car."

He too saw the sky and abandoned the trail with reluctance.

"Only a summer thunderstorm, but I guess we'd better get out of this before it breaks."

"Listen!" warned Doris. "that's thunder already. Oh dear, I hope it doesn't lightning. It scares me to death."

"Not while I'm here to protect you!" he declared stoutly. He linked his arm through hers and they walked on.

But they missed the trail. When the storm broke in all its mid-summer fury, with thunder and lightning and wind crashing through the forest like demons loosed in screaming frenzy, they were completely lost in a pathless tangle of trees and underbrush.

"Well, are we all ready?" asked Uncle Wiggily one afternoon, when his wife and all the forty-seven little rabbit boys and girls, counting Baby Bunty, the orphan, had piled into the automobile belonging to Mr. Longears. "And are we all here?"

"I suppose so," answered Mrs. Longears. "Well, until I count noses. We don't want to leave out anyone." So she began to count the noses of the forty-seven and one bunny children packed in the big car. It wasn't long before she came to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use. ## TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Wilson's Experience a Guide to Women Passing through the Change of Life

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was in the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move. I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle and I recommend it with great success, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about your medicine, as I cannot speak too highly of them."—Mrs. Emma Wilson, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

The Police Dog held up his paw.

moving about, each one trying to twinkle a nose better than the other. So, Mrs. Longears counted Jingle twice and Jangle three times. "We have more bunnies than belong to us," said the surprised lady rabbit to her husband. "Let me count," suggested Mr. Longears, and having made Jingle and Jangle keep still, he finally checked up all the pink, twinkling noses, and away they started from the hollow stump bungalow, all the forty-seven little rabbits, with Baby Bunty, the orphan. Uncle Wiggily was taking them for an evening ride, planning to come back after dark. All of a sudden there was a sharp, hissing sound and Uncle Wiggily stopped the car with a jolt and cried: "A punnet!"

"No, Daddycum!" laughed Bumble, a little boy bunny. "That was only my brother Tumble hissing through his teeth. He said he could do it louder than I, and he did!"

"Well, please don't do it again," begged the father of the forty-seven. "It makes me nervous," and, being glad there was no punctured tire to mend, Uncle Wiggily drove on. They went along a pleasant country road, where the evening shadows were beginning to gather and the little bunnies began to sing, until, all of a sudden, Nambly gave a loud scream.

"Has some one fallen out?" asked Uncle Wiggily, coming to a quick stop.

"Pamby just dropped her doll!" said Nambly. "I screamed for her 'cause she was so surprised she couldn't scream for herself."

"Dear me!" murmured Uncle Wiggily, as he stopped the car while Tumble ran back to pick up his sister's doll. "I wonder what will happen next?"

Well, the next thing that happened was, when Uncle Wiggily was driving the car home, after having stopped at a strawberry shortcake stand along the road to buy the bunnies some cookies, all of a sudden the Police Dog held up his paw to stop the auto and barked:

"I am very sorry, Uncle Wiggily, but your tail light is out and I cannot permit you to drive until it is lighted."

"My tail light out!" repeated the rabbit, trying to turn around to look at himself. "Why, I have no light on my tail."

"I mean the tail light of your auto—it's out," said the Police Dog. "You must either hand a lantern on your car or get a new light."

"How would it be, Mr. Police Dog," asked Mrs. Longears. "If I leaned over the back of the car and twinkled my pink nose, I'm sure it's bright enough for a tail light."

"No, that will not do," barked the Police Dog and Uncle Wiggily was wondering how he could get to the next garage to buy a new tail light when, all of a sudden, Baby Bunty called:

"Look in that hollow log!" and she pointed to one alongside the road.

"See," went on the orphan rabbit, "it has a lot of lightning bugs in it. I guess they are staying in the hollow log for the winter, which will soon be here. If you could put some fireflies inside the tail light, Uncle Wiggily, they would shine through the red glass and make the danger light again."

"Will that be all right, Mr. Police Dog?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

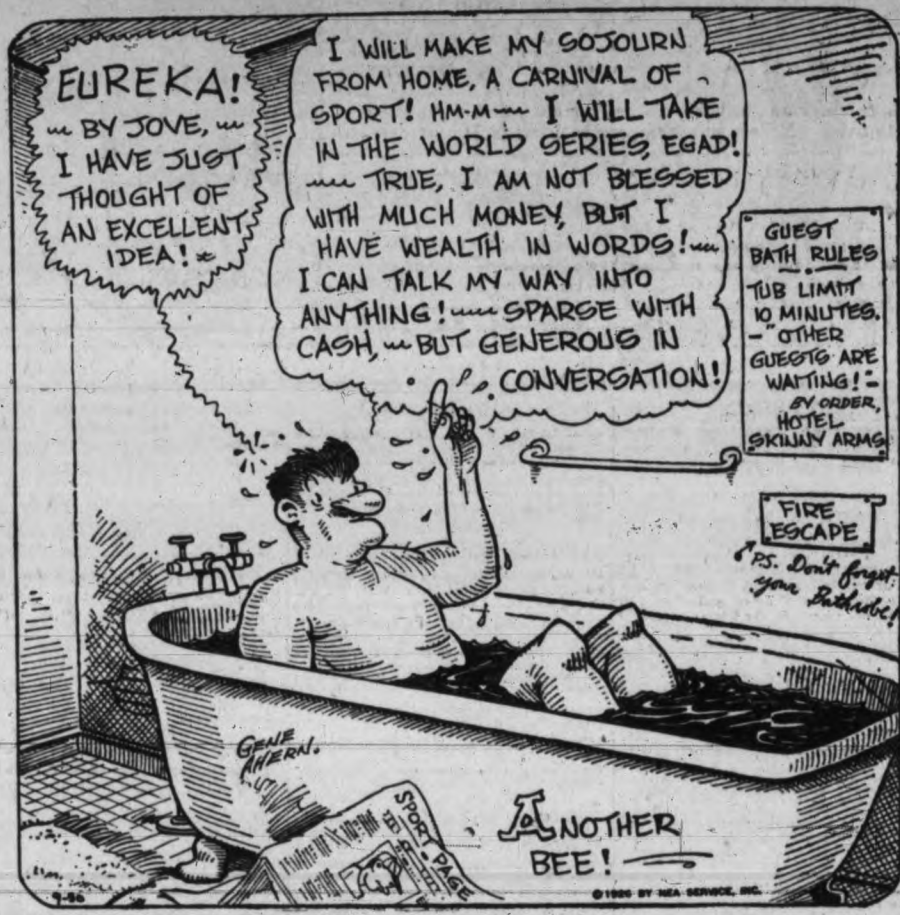

"Try it!" was the barking answer. And when some of the fireflies were put inside the burned out tail lamp, they made a lovely red glow, so cars behind Uncle Wiggily's auto could see not to bump into him. The rabbit said he would bring the fireflies back to their hollow log next day.

"On your way—roll along," laughed the Police Dog when he saw that the red tail lamp was glowing again. "You won't be arrested now."

So the ride came to happy end, and if the cow doesn't borrow the butterfly's wings to soar over the moon, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the sticky ball.

Hon. John Oliver Tells Saanichton Audience of Provincial Expenditure

The Provincial grant to Farmers' Institutes was mentioned, also the aid given women's institutes in cash and the assistance available for boys and girls clubs. Of the total Agricultural Departmental vote of $440,320, no less than $97,000 goes direct
